Shark Kills Marinite's Son Off San Francisco Beach

BEACH TRAGEDY SCENE — Shirley O'Neill, 18, bends over fatally injured Albert Kogler on Baker's Beach in San Francisco after he was attacked yesterday by what was believed to be a big white killer shark. The 18-year-old victim raises his slashed right arm in a feeble gesture. He died later in Letterman Army Hospital. (AP Wirephoto)

Girl Fails In Attempt At Rescue

Albert Carl Kogler, 18-year-old son of a Corte Madera town councilman, was fatally wounded by a shark yesterday while swimming near the Golden Gate with a girl companion who made a heroic attempt to save him.

The youth, a freshman student at San Francisco State College, died in Letterman Army Hospital at 8:05 p.m. despite emergency surgery.

His father, Councilman Albert E. Kogler of Marina Village, Corte Madera, and his mother, Mrs. Harold McGrath of San Francisco, were at his bedside when he died.

Doctors said young Kogler succumbed of shock and loss of blood. His left arm was nearly ripped from the shoulder and he had deep gashes on his neck, right arm, chest and back.

HITS REPEATEDLY

The killer, believed by marine authorities to be a great white shark, attacked Kogler at about 5:30 p.m. while he was swimming some 50 yards off San Francisco's Baker's Beach with 18-year-old Shirley O'Neill, a fellow college student. Whipping its tail across the surface, the shark struck the screaming youth repeatedly.

(As a result of the incident, the San Francisco Parks and Recreation Department today ordered Phelan Beach, 100 yards south of Baker's Beach, closed to public swimming.

("It is just possible a school of sharks may be lurking offshore, and this will be investigated," Raymond Kimbell, general manager of the department, told the Independent-Journal.

Incorporation Could Cut Novato From County Road Funds

If Novato incorporates, it stands to lose $20,700 worth of projected road work, if an opinion by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan sticks.

The matter came up yesterday afternoon as the county board of supervisors took up the department of public works road budget. The supervisors will continue to discuss the road budget at a session scheduled for 9 a.m. Monday.

It is not likely, upon the advice of Jordan, that funds earmarked for Novato will be excluded from the budget. But they could be yanked out sometime during the fiscal year.

This would put the new city's attorney in the position of testing Jordan's contention in court, if an incorporated Novato wished to fight county withdrawal of funds or services.

The matter comes up just as petitions are being circulated asking for an election on Novato incorporation.

This is the situation as explained by Jordan and County Administrator Donald A. Jensen:

Jensen wanted to know what effect Novato incorporation would have on the county budget in light of the Governmental Research Associates report (the so-called Zion report) which suggested:

1. That Novato incorporate at a time that it could take advantage of county funds, that is, staring as early in a fiscal year as possible.

2. That the expense of operating the city would be sufficiently low, because of money coming from the county and

COLLEGE FACULTY SEEKS 7½% RAISE

Teachers Contend Salaries Rank Below Other Comparable Schools In Bay Area

The faculty of the College of Marin last night requested a 7½ per cent salary raise for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

The request was made of the college board of trustees by the salary committee of the faculty association at an informal session at the college.

Edwin Braun, salary committee chairman, made the presentation with the aid of numerous charts designed to support the faculty's contention that the college does not rank particularly high in salaries compared with other Bay Area colleges.

Braun added that he hopes all college district employees will be granted the 7½ per cent raise if the board approves.

NO DECISION

The board did not say yes or no. William Howe, president of the faculty association, said he would have to report to the association as a whole, and wanted to know if he could say anything encouraging.

Board Chairman Ada M. Fusselman replied: "Frankly, since this is the first time we've seen this, we should be given time to study it. But I would certainly say we should make a decision at our June meeting."

Last year, the question of raises was not resolved until late in the year, and raises were given retroactively. The whole thing last year, in the words of board member Elizabeth Deedy, was "a mess."

TO INVITE FACULTY

At the suggestion of board member George G. Washburn, it was decided to invite the entire faculty of 44 to a board of trustees budget session.

"I think the teachers should see where the money comes from," he said, "and where it goes. They should see the whole financial picture. We have our problems." He said several requests for funds were already coming through, including a $32,00 request for lighting the football field.

The total increase in salary raises, including increments already due in automatic step increases and the 7½ per cent increase, is $32,404. Of this amount, $6,404 represents step increases of $200 each for 32 faculty members. The 7½ per cent increase would add $26,000 to the budget.

EARLIER MEETING

Mrs. Deedy and board member Rupert E. Kempf commended Braun for his presentation. "Perhaps," Mrs. Deedy said, "we will request a meeting with you prior to June."

These were the main points presented by Braun:

The salary schedule is now set up in five classes, ranging from those with a special credential to those with doctorates, with 16 step increases in each class. The salary range is from $5,000 for a beginner with a special credential to $8,880 for a doctorate in step 16.

A Bay Area-wide comparison was made for step 12 because the median instructor at College of Marin is on step 12, and all other Bay Area junior colleges require less than 16 steps

Ike Bars Summit If Russia Acts Alone

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will refuse to go to a summit conference if the Russians carry out their threat to turn East Berlin over to the East German Communists.

He will take the same stand if the Soviets sign a separate peace treaty with puppet East Germany.

Any such one-sided Soviet action in the next few weeks undoubtedly would wreck the Big Four foreign ministers conference due to begin in Geneva Monday.

This American attitude became known authoritatively a few hours before Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's takeoff for pre-conference strategy talks with the British and French foreign ministers.

Herter himself already has served notice that the Russians must match concession for concession to end the danger of war.

Herter outlined America's position for the East-West talks in a nationally broadcast address last night.

In his half-hour address the new secretary pledged firmness and intent to negotiate in good faith.

He set forth three basic guidelines of Western policy for the negotiations and summed them up, saying:

"The heart of our policy can be clearly and simply said to be this: A Germany reunited in freedom, a security system linked with arrangements for arms control, and in the interim a free and secure Berlin."

Bridge Board Still Opposes Gate Authority

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today unanimously reaffirmed their position in opposition to the proposed Golden Gate Authority so long as the bridge and highway authority is included.

Noting numerous amendments to Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy's bill SB 576, the directors declared it still was not in a condition which they could support.

They objected to a section which would require the bridge directors to "consult with and obtain the advice and confirmation" of the authority.

They said this "would seriously impair" the directors operation and "would reflect on the character, honesty and integrity of this board."

In addition, they said the bridge attorney had advised the bill is "still unconstitutional as it applies to the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District."

Director George Anderson, past president of the district, said he had a statement prepared for presentation to the Legislature which would warn of the possibility of long litigation.

Deputy Defense Chief Quarles Dies At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles, engineer-businessman and second ranking civilian in the Pentagon since 1957, died unexpectedly today! He was 64.

A chauffeur sent to Quarles' home to drive him to an early morning television broadcast was unable to rouse him. A relative and officials were summoned quickly and efforts were made to revive him. Apparently he had been dead for some hours, however.

The cause of death was not immediately established.

Quarles was alone in his home at the time. Mrs. Quarles was in Chicago. He had attended a dinner last night and friends said he showed no sign of illness when he left about 11 p.m.

Quarles frequently had been acting civilian chief during absences of Secretary Neil H. McElroy. He had been mentioned as a possible successor to McElroy, who has announced he is leaving late this year.

He became secretary of the Air Force in August, 1955.

He is survived by his wife and three children by a former marriage.

Petition Drive For Novato City Begins

Two dozen persons today began circulating petitions in the area proposed for an incorporated Novato, after being urged last night to complete the petitions no later than May 31.

Precinct captains were given last-minute instructions at a meeting last night of the Novato Home Rule Committee at the North Marin Title Co. office.

Committee Chairman Clark M. Palmer Jr. told the workers that if the petitions can be completed by the end of May, there is a chance that an election can be set to decide the issue by Oct. 1.

After verification of the petitions by the county clerk, the board of supervisors must hold public hearings.

Palmer advised the group that in cases of joint ownership of property, signatures should be obtained from both husband and wife. Otherwise, he said, only 50 per cent of the assessed value of the property will be represented on the petitions.

Needed are signatures of persons representing 25 per cent of the population and also at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation within the proposed city boundaries.

No attempt will be made to circulate petitions at Hamilton Air Force Base, which lies withing the proposed boundaries, Palmer said, since the base is not on the county tax rolls.

Sally To Keep Liquor License For Valhalla

Sally Stanford, once a notorious San Francisco madam, will keep the liquor license for her Valhalla Inn restaurant in Sausalito.

A prior order to revoke the license will be stayed one year and then voiced, providing there are no violations during this probationary period, the state Department of Alcoholic Beverages Control decided in Sacramento yesterday.

State Liquor Director Thomas W. Martin said the department's action followed "evidence that Miss Stanford has been a rehabilitated person."

This ruling, however, will not affect the scheduled revocation of her Gaslight Bar license in San Francisco on May 29, Martin pointed out. Miss Stanford had indicated she would not press a Gaslight appeal if permitted to retain the Valhalla license.

The prior liquor administration started proceedings against Miss Stanford four years ago, claiming she had concealed a police record in obtaining the licenses.

Miss Stanford began her legal appeal two years ago. When Martin became the state liquor administrator this year, she appealed for a case review.

Subsequently Judge Ben Curler of Lassen County Superior Court remanded the case back to the state alcoholic beverage department while sitting temporarily in Marin County.

Yesterday the state department tossed in the bar towel.

Marin Medical Dept. Asks Lower Budget

One Marin County Department will operate for the next fiscal year on less money than it had this year—at the request of the department head.

The board of supervisors yesterday approved Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy's budget for the county medical department, totaling $279,000. That is $12,000 less than this year's expenditures.

Dufficy pointed out the saving is possible because the county now has a contact with only one hospital (San Rafael General) for emergency care of indigent patients. The county is now paying a backlog of bills that won't be repeated, Dr. Dufficy told the supervisors.

The supervisors also approved a $38,190 budget for care of indigent tuberculosis patients next year. The number of patients has decreased slightly, but the same amount is budgeted as last year because the county's contract with Ross General Hospital increased the monthly rate from $315 to $350 on April 1.

Article Discloses 12 Starfighters Went To Formosa

An article appearing in the April issue of The Airman, official Air Force magazine, written by M/Sgt. Pierce W. Timberlake, editor of the Hamilton Air Force Base newspaper, Scramble, has disclosed that 12 F104 Starfighters were sent to Formosa from the Marin base last September.

It is the first public announcement of the number of planes sent from Hamilton during the period of tension over Chinese Communist designs on the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Timberlake's story describes how the men and planes of the 83rd Fighter Intercepter Squadron were sent to the Chinese Nationalist stronghold on short notice. The Starfighters were shipped piecemeal in C124 Globemasters, the men transported in C97 Stratocruisers.

3,400 'Killed' By Enemy Bomb In Marin Civil Defense Test

A "paper" Civil Defense exercise conducted today revealed 3,400 Marin persons "killed" from a simulated enemy nuclear bomb drop.

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said the exercise was part of a nationwide alert, being conducted individually by counties.

He said last-minute instruction from the state Civil Defense office put the test on the basis of weather conditions April 17 with a two-hour alert.

The simulated bomb was dropped 14 miles east of the courthouse in San Rafael, placing the center of the blast in the region of the eastern part of San Pablo Bay or in northern Contra Costa County.

On April 17, the prevailing wind was east, thus sending the brunt of damage away from Marin.

Other results were:

Extensive fire, blast and radiation damage at McNear Point, San Quentin Point and the Tiburon Peninsula.

Serious radiation effects in San Rafael, Larkspur, Corte Madera, Mill Valley and Sausalito.

Minor radiation damage, but no casualities at Hamilton Air Force Base, San Anselmo, Ross and Kentfield.

A total of 27,000 persons injured, and 31,000 evacuated to West Marin and to Novato.

6 Miles Of Marin Roads To Be Resurfaced

Nearly six miles of state highway in Marin County will be resurfaced at an approximate cost of $41,000 next month, Ralph Kinsey, assistant engineer of District 4, Division of Highways, announced today.

Under a contract let by the state Department of Public Works in Sacramento, Reichhold and Jurkovich of San Pablo will do the work.

Approximately $20,000 will be spent for resurfacing 1.2 miles of highway between the San Rafael viaduct and the north San Rafael city limits and a tenth of a mile beyond the city limits.

Sections of Shoreline highway between Muir Beach and Stinson Beach, totaling 4.61 miles, will be done at an approximate cost of $21,000, Kinsey said.

In Sacramento, the state Division of Highways awarded a $31,270.10 contract to Bernard Gayman of Sausalito yesterday for landscaping along Highway 99W through Arbuckle in Colusa County.

Dispute Ends, Salmon Boats Put To Sea

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 500 salmon boats of San Francisco Bay went back to sea early today after a two-week tie up because of a price dispute.

Wholesalers agreed yesterday to pay fishermen 50 cents for large salmon, 38 cents for medium and 32 cents for small. This was about five cents more than dealers had offered.

During the tieup, the Crab Boat Owners Assn. said local fishermen considered joining the Halibut Producers Cooperative, a marketing organization headquarters in Seattle, in order to make greater profits.

The fishermen said they still were considering the plan even though the dispute here with dealers has been settled.

Prosperity Rise Predicted For Next 12 Months

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—An unofficial government forecast of rising prosperity for the next 12 months or longer found general agreement today among the country's top industrialists—but with some reservations.

Members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, starting a closed-door weekend session with federal officials, mentioned two big uncertainties in the 1959 business outlook:

STEEL STRIKE

First, the possible summer steel strike, which could retard an otherwise steady advance to a record production rate as high as 490 billion dollars annually in the final quarter of this year.

Second, the unforeseeable impact of the entry of major American auto producers into the small car field.

Concern over some longer range problems—the shrinkage of American export markets and the persistence of high unemployment—was also mentioned by some council members in private interviews.

SPRING MEETING

About 100 businessmen, including the heads of many of the country's largest corporations were here for the council's meeting with Secretary of Commerce Lewis L. Strauss and other Washington officials.

Strauss' appearance was delayed by a bitter fight in the Senate Commerce Comittee over confirmation of his nomination.

Minister Says Wife's Daughter Not His

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court is studying the case of a Marin City minister, who is seeking divorce from his wife whom he accuses of bearing a child by another man.

Rev. Samuel L. Banks told the judge yesterday he is not the father of Mrs. Banks' 16-month-old daughter, Cathy. His wife, Mattie Banks, said she would not contest the divorce action.

Judge Brusatori took the case under advisement for further study before handing down his decision.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered a substantial portion of yesterday's sharp losses as the list extended its gains in active trading late this afternoon.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,000,000 shares compared with 4,530,000 yesterday.

Gains ran from fractions to five points or more.

Both space age stocks and blue chips advanced on a broad front. Rails, which lagged early in the session, joined with industrials and utilities to run up a string of gains in late dealings.

Wall Streeters regarded the action as a technical rebound from yesterday's decline, the sharpest since last November.

Gains of two points or better were made by Ford, Chrysler, American Motors, Goodyear and Goodrich.

California Packing gained nearly six on stock split news.

National Steel, International Paper and Radio Corp. were up around two apiece. Martin Co. spurted about four.

Steel Talks Likely To Recess Today

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel negotiators were expected to recess weeklong preliminary contract talks today for a few days' respite to digest economic arguments exchanged this week.

The industry-union labor battle has gotten off to a fast start with both sides asking federal government investigations of each other's tactics.

It was indicated, however, that much of the bickering so far has been the normal posturing of two protagonists

The union demanded yesterday that the Justice department and National Labor Relations Board probe for possible anti-trust and labor law violations in what the union called company profit-pooling and lockout plans in case of a strike.

Denying a management conspiracy, steel producers said that if anything needs federal investigation it is "the concentration of power in the union which is what gives rise to the problems of industry self-protection."

Later, R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the U.S. Steel Corp., and union president David J. McDonald agreed that more progress would be made in negotiations before current contracts expire June 30

Truman Turns 75;He'll Be Feted At Big Televised Party Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman is 75 years old today. He voiced a wish for peace and happiness for all the people of the United States.

The expression came as newsmen, warbling "Happy Birthday, Dear Harry," in more or less tuneless fashion, presented him with a surprise birthday cake before he'd even had breakfast.

Obviously pleased, Truman mustered up two healthy puffs and blew out the candles. He had the crowd of reporters and photographers sign a card accompanying the cake and then proudly took it upstairs at his hotel to show Mrs. Truman.

HARRY S. TRUMAN
Cake before breakfast

When asked if he had a birthday wish, he said: "I wish for peace and happiness for all the people of the United States."

He also said he wished for "another boy in Margaret's family." He referred to his daughter, Mrs. Clifton Daniel, who expecting her second child.

True to his reputation as one of the walkingest-talkingest former presidents the country ever had, Truman then set out on his morning stroll.

Asked if he thought he had made any mistakes in his 75 years, Truman said:

"I made plenty of them. I'd be sprouting wings if I hadn't. Nobody can live without making mistakes. The only thing you can do is try to remedy them."

He said he had lived a "hectic life but a happy one," and that he wouldn't change any of it if he could. He subsequently amended this to make one exception: "I'd get married sooner." Truman was 35 when he wed.

Tonight, Truman will eat a $100 filet mignon dinner and address a coast-to-coast birthday party.

Festivities in 16 cities are being linked by closed circuit television. There will be about 50,000 guests.

The ex-president, spotlighted on the flower-decked dais of the Waldorf-Astoria's grand ballroom, is going to see and hear plenty.

Included in the 90-minute program is a film biography of his career, "Man of Decision," produced by Dore Schary; appearances by a stellar array including Jimmy Durante, Jack Benny and Danny Kaye; and speeches from Boston by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) and from Chicago by Adlai Stevenson, twice Democratic candidate for the presidency.

College Carnival Slated Tomorrow

Carnival days will return briefly to College of Marin tomorrow as students entertain to raise funds for campus activities.

A student-sponsored carnival will start at 4 p.m. in the school gymnasium and continue "at least until 1 a.m. Sunday," said Fred Baker, general chairman.

Booths will be sponsored by nine campus groups: Delta Rho Tau, Diocto, Dyonisus, Quindeks, Chi Nu Theta, Penta Kai Dek, Semator Aclanes, Veterans and Associated Women Students.

Proceeds will be used to finance dances, band concerts and outside entertainment, Baker explained.

Homestead Firemen To Dance Tomorrow

The annual Homestead Valley's Firemen's Ball will be held tomorrow starting at 9 p.m. at Brown's Hall on Miller avenue, Mill Valley.

Conrad F. Tarabella, chairmen of the Firemens' Assn. said the event will be advertised during the day as the Homestead department's reserve truck parades through streets of the district.

Teeners Give $150 To Tam Club Projects

Tamalpais Valley's teen-age group startled members of the Tam Valley Improvement Club last night when it contributed $100 to a fund for development of a playground on Glenwood avenue and $50 to the club's building fund.

Club members received a report that almost $2,000 had been cleared from the recent "Rhubarb Revue" to be devoted to the club's building fund, far exceeding income from previous presentations of the show.

Members were told that veteran custodian Les Cooper was retiring because of illness, and would be replaced by Don Ricketts.

Plans for a door-to-door membership drive were announced.

Marin Medical Society Hears Two Speakers

Marin's doctors heard a double-barreled report last night at the monthly meeting of the Marin County Medical Society.

Principal speaker was Edwin McInnis, vice president in Bank of America's division of trusts. His topic was "Well Planned Estates."

The doctors and their wives also heard a report from A. Crawford Greene, trustee of the Babcock Foundation, on the operation of Marin County's unique organization to help persons in financial distress because of medical bills.

Greene, a special guest with his fellow trustee, John Parker, and the foundation's executive secretary, Miss Ann McCorry, reported the foundation had accepted 295 applications for funds and granted 263 loans and gifts. In the two years of the foundation's operation it has paid out $75,175 to hospitals and $74,360 to doctors, he reported. Only Marin residents are eligible for the foundation's assistance.

McInnis, who was introduced by program chairman Dr. Dallas Wagner, explained ways of handling estates and providing for a wife and children. In a humor-packed speech, he warned about the necessity of anticipating and providing for taxes and offered a variety of ways in which an estate may be better handled to get the greatest amount of the estate's value to the people for whom it is intended.

Dr. Rolla Hess, society president, presided at the dinner meeting in the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Motorcycle Rams Novato Bank; Driver Injured

A Novato cabinetmaker was being treated at San Rafael General Hospital today for injuries suffered when his motorcycle rammed the First National Bank building in Novato yesterday.

Dean H. Cheek, 23, of 10 Rose court lost control of his motorcycle while traveling east on Grant avenue. It hit the building at the corner of Grant and Machin avenue at 6:10 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

Cheek's right leg was broken.

The CHP said Cheek was thrown from the motorcycle and it landed on top of him. He was taken to the hospital by United Ambulance. His condition was listed as "fair."

Hendrickson Flies To L. A. On 'Own Business'

San Rafael manufacturer John R. Hendrickson flew to Los Angeles yesterday to tend "to my business," as a federal grand jury there made plans to open next week an investigation into an alleged $3,714,710 embezzlement to which Hendrickson is linked.

Hendrickson, of 27 Dellwood court, declined to discuss his plans with reporters, and said, "anything I have to say will be said in court, if and when it comes to that."

He has been charged with aiding in misapplication of $20,000 in funds of the Long Beach National Bank, of which George A. Hewlett, 40, was vice president.

TOOK OWN LIFE

Hewlett took his life last week on the eve of an investigation into discrepancies in records of the bank, which was merged last month with the U. S. National Bank of San Diego. He left a note mentioning Hendrickson, who was arrested in the case and freed on $50,000 bail. Hendrickson was ordered to appear before the grand jury hearing set for Wednesday.

A suicide note left by Hewlett has implicated Hendrickson in the embezzlement of nearly four million dollars in bank funds.

The Hewlett note said, in part, "It'll be so long before I'm free again that even though Johnny has said he has sufficient assets to cover everything, there is no other way out than suicide." The "Johnny" in the note allegedly is Hendrickson.

GOING TO TEXAS?

As Hendrickson flew to Los Angeles, sources there said he is thought to be planning a trip to El Paso, where one of his firms has a contract to install heating in a housing project at Ft. Bliss.

Hendrickson has been cautioned not to try to leave the country.

He has denied any part in the embezzlement, admitting only that he had become friends with Hewlett in 1954 when, as a plumber, he had a commercial account at the Long Beach bank.

Watercolorist Will Teach In Sausalito

Watercolorist George Post will teach painting classes May 16 and 17 in Sausalito and San Rafael, Mrs. A. W. Ralston of Fairfax announced today. Mrs. Ralston is making arrangements for the "field trip" painting classes.

Post has won many awards in California and national exhibitions, and has taught at Stanford University and the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland.

Name Mixup Embarrasses Ross Couple

An unusual coincidence in names has led to unwarranted embarrassment to a Ross family that owns property at 8 Fernhill avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hendrickson of that address are not connected in any way with the John R. Hendrickson of San Rafael who is implicated in a bank embezzlement in Southern California.

The Hendrickson of Ross said their clean record has been blemished by the erroneous association with the other Hendrickson. The Hendrickson in Ross is Jack Norman Hendrickson, who is treasurer for a tag and label company in Richmond. Mrs. Hendrickson of Ross is Virginia P. Hendrickson. The other Mrs. Hendrickson is Virginia A.

This is how the mixup came about:

The U.S. National Bank of San Diego, which is interested in the alleged embezzlement, attached the Ross property thinking it belonged to John R. Hendrickson. Hillet C. Hornbeck of San Francisco, agent for the San Diego bank, asked the sheriff to serve the notice on the property.

Floyd Middagh, chief civil deputy in the sheriff's office, said he noticed a difference in middle initial, but processed the papers as requested. Middagh said that unless he gets instructions to the contrary, he must post the Ross property.

Hornbeck, notified of the possible mixup, said today he would investigate and withdraw the attachment as soon as he discovers it is in error.

Corporation, Bank, Beer Tax Hikes Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The administration agreed today to a temporary freeze of two proposals by Gov. Edmund G. Brown for tax increases totaling 68.6 million dollars.

The announcement came after the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee approved these measures yesterday by bare 9-8 votes:

1. Boosting the beer tax from two to seven cents a gallon to bring in an additional 10 million dollars a year.

BANK TAXES

2. Increasing bank and corporation franchise taxes by 58.6 million dollars. The bill would change the basic tax rate from 4 to 5½ per cent.

The action brought the total of Brown's tax measures approved by the Assembly committee to 233.4 million dollars. It left only the 23-million-dollar oil-gas severance tax bill to be considered by the group, 10-7 Democratic.

Chairman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento), who introduced the bills for the governor, told the committee he would place the beer and bank-corporation proposals on the Assembly inactive file until after the state budget goes through the Legislature.

GOP OBJECTION

Minority Republicans have objected repeatedly to what they view as the administration's attempt to push the new taxes before the Legislature decides how much the state is going to spend.

"We are not rubber-stamping any political tax program until we know what the budget will be," said Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada).

The Assembly already has passed and sent to the Senate administration bills for a new three-cent cigarette tax, 71.4 million dollars more in personal income taxes, higher levies on horse racing and changes in the insurance tax.

ADMINISTRATION SEEKS NEW 1-CENT STAMP HIKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has asked Congress for another one-cent increase in first-class letter and airmail postage.

If approved, the proposal would boost postage on a first-class letter to five cents and on airmail to eight cents.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield estimated such an increase would bring in an additional 355 million dollars a year. The current operating deficit of the Post Office Department is estimated at more than 500 million dollars a year.

In his budget message to Congress in January, President Eisenhower indicated he would ask for higher rates to help balance Post Office Department books. Many congressional Democrats predicted at the time there wasn't much chance for further postal increases.

Scientists Urge Level Of Fallout Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scientists were to tell Congress today what the radioactive fallout results might be if the nuclear powers resume large-scale tests.

The Senate-House radiation subcommittee has heard this week a wide variety of testimony on the effects of fallout from atomic tests conducted so far. The hearings were to end today.

An Atomic Energy Commission scientist testified yesterday it was "prudent to assume" cancer deaths of children would increase proportionately as fallout increases.

Dr. Jack Schubert, chemist at the Argonne National Laboratory, said his studies of children's cancer had convinced him the maximum permissible level fixed for fallout radiation should be lowered considerably.

He urged that the level for strontium 90—the most dreaded substance produced in nuclear blasts—be cut in half.

The levels are set by the International Commission on Radiological Protection and the U.S. National Committee on Radiation Protection.

Dr. Gioacchino Failla, veteran Columbia University physicist who long has been associated with both organizations, testified that the maximum levels had been lowered several times since they first were set in 1934.

But Dr. James F. Crow, University of Wisconsin geneticist, said he believed the levels should be reduced still further to the level of background radiation already in the air.

Rodeo Being Arranged At Novato Fete

Frank Scott, a member of Novato Horsemen, Inc., has been named chairman of a committee to arrange for the final event in Novato's Western Weekend next month—a wild west rodeo June 21 at the horsemen's arena at the end of Bugeia lane.

Edward Allen has been named assistant chairman.

Other recently appointed chairmen for Western Weekend and their committees are Mrs. Richard Connell, policy; Mrs. Alfred Cazzaniga, pupblicity; Edward Allen, arena; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, tickets; Keith Craig and Robert Catallo, parking; Neil Cullins, loud speaker and grounds; Mrs. Robert Dejoria and Mrs. Clifford Pierce, fence patrol, and Mrs. Rudy Smith, clubhouse.

A contract has been signed with the Rosser and Pascoe Flying U Rodeo of Marysville, said Scott, to provide the hard-riding cowboys and sporting livestock. The rodeo is being jointly planned by the horsemen's group and Donald V. Westlund Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Marin Contractor Low Bidder On Pier For Isle Park

Russ Lauterwasser, Larkspur contractor, emerged as low bidder for construction of a floating pier at Angel Island State Park, at a figure of $10,760.

He was lowest of seven bidders, according to Lloyd W. Lively, district superintendent of the state Division of Beaches and Parks in San Francisco.

At the same bid opening, Ben C. Gerwick, Inc., of San Francisco bid $3,166 to erect piling in the park's harbor, the lowest of four bidders.

Lively said contracts should be awarded by June 1.

Help For Older Workers Approved

SACRAMENTO —Legislation to give California's older workers a hand in finding jobs passed its first test with flying colors.

The Assembly Industrial Relation unanimously approved the measure by Assemblyman Edward M. Gaffney (D-San Francisco) yesterday.

The bill would set up a special placement service for persons who have trouble finding jobs because of advanced age.

Senate Group Rejects Ban On Death Penalty

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Senate Judiciary Committee last night buried, for at least two years, a new and heavily amended bill to abolish the death penalty in California.

The 6-6 vote on the measure authored by Sen. Fred S. Farr (D-Carmel) was two short of the number needed for committee approval.

It was the second time in less than a month that the Legislature rejected a proposal to ban capital punishment. The Assembly voted April 21 to keep the death penalty and the next day beat down attempts to reconsider the vote.

LAST-DITCH BILL

Confronted with the Senate committee action, opponents of capital punishment — a traditionally stubborn group — said it might be "unwise" to try to move a last-ditch bill introduced Monday by Assemblyman George E. Brown (D-Monterey Park).

Farr's bill, as amended, would have substituted life imprisonment without the possibility of parole for the death sentence on an eight-year trial period.

Excluded from the bill's protection would have been murders of policemen, killings by persons previously convicted of murder and killings within prison.

INEQUALITIES

Lynn Compton, deputy district attorney of Los Angeles County, said the Farr bill "creates inequalities." Compton said a child mutilator would escape death, for instance, but an inmate who knifed a guard would be sentenced to the gas chamber.

Richard A. McGee, an opponent of capital punishment, said that of 57 assaults committed in California prisons from 1952 to 1958, only three had been initiated by inmates convicted of first degree murder.

Farr, who battled the death penalty unsuccessfully in the 1957 session and then again this year, strongly implied that he would attempt to revive the bill again in 1961.

"I am fully of the belief," he said, "that the question is not if California will abolish the death penalty, but when California will abolish the death penalty."

Judge Baty Tough On Drag Racers

Drag racers will find no friend in Judge David R. Baty.

Presiding over Marin's Northwest Judicial District Court in Point Reyes Station for the first time Wednesday, the judge fined two racers $25 each, suspended their operator's licenses for three months and placed them on probation for one year.

The defendants, Dennis Perry, 20, Valley Ford, and a 17-year-old Tomales youth, were accused of racing 45 miles an hour through the 25-mile zone in Tomales, for several hours. Their course took them past Tomales High School during the noon hour.

To begin with, it's wonderful just to sit there—cradled in the comfort of its cushions . . . surrounded by its Fleetwood luxury . . . and soothed by its marvelous quiet and steadiness of ride.

And how wonderful it is to command the "car of cars".

A traffic light gleaming red? The touch of your toe on that big, wide pedal brings you to a smooth, sure stop.

And through it all, of course, there is the indefinable magic of knowing that this is a Cadillac—admired and respected by all who behold it.

In fact, when your appointed destination comes into view, you will probably regard it with reluctance. For when the miles past have been so pleasant, the miles ahead are always tempting.

But no matter where journey's end might find you, the proof will be abundant—from first start to final stop, a journey in a Cadillac is the finest distance between any two points.

Smog Bill Moves Ahead In Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Another step in anti-smog legislation, this one calling for the state to set pure air standards, moved ahead in the Senate today.

The administration measure, carried by Assemblyman William D. Rumford, was approved by the Senate Public Health Committee yesterday.

It directs the state Department of Public Health to decide at what point smog is dangerous to humans and vegetation. The deadline for setting the standards is February, 1960.

A companion measure to set standards for auto exhausts was signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week.

State Says Dry Summer In Store

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Abnormally dry April weather foreshadows deficient water supplies the rest of the year in California, the state Department of Water Resources revealed today.

The light rain of early April was not offset by the thin blanket of snow deposited in the Sierra late in the month, department hydrologists said.

Near-record minimums in runoff are expected in several northern San Joaquin Valley streams, and runoffs well below average will be common even in Northern California.

The report noted that the runoff for the first seven months of the 1958-59 water year has been only 60 per cent of the statewide average.

Supervisors Scan Road Budget Next

The county board of supervisors, committed to a policy of road construction financed entirely by gasoline and sales tax revenues, this weekend will look over a list of projects that would mean a 10-cent property tax increase if left intact.

The county's proposed 1959-60 budget, when submitted, called for a tax rate of $2.39 per $100 assessed valuation. After some jockeying up and down, it stands essentially where it did in the beginning, nine cents above this year's tax rate.

If the complete list of road projects were authorized, the estimated tax rate would be $2.49.

TO EYE ROAD LIST

The board late yesterday scheduled its scrutiny of the road list for 9 a.m. Monday.

Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works, yesterday afternoon listed the road projects he believes can be postponed. If these were all deleted, no property tax would be necessary for next year's road improvements. This year the county levied two and one-fourth cents for road improvements.

These are the suggested deletions:

North San Pedro road, drainage from Crestview east to existing pipe, $8,000; Sir Francis Drake boulevard from Highway 101 to Ross, widen and improve sections, $60,000; Fairfax-Bolinas road, plant mix and seal portions, $10,000; Tomales-Petaluma road, cattle underpass (amount to be matched by property owners), $6,000; Ranchitos road, shoulder improvements, $4,000; Laurel Grove avenue, drainage improvements, $6,000; Sir Francis Drake boulevard east, plant mix overlay from corporation yard to San Quentin road, $8,000.

NO CITY AID

County Administrator Donald A. Jensen recommended against making road improvement contributions to cities on the theory that city dwellers should be paying no property tax for roads in unincorported Marin County and the other residents should be paying no property tax for roads in cities.

Jensen said $45,300 was being carried over from last year's appropriation for San Pedro road south, but no new appropriation was requested. Corte Madera had submitted a request for $35,000 of improvements on Paradise drive inside the town limits. Jensen recommended against its approval.

Jensen noted that a 21-million-dollar bond issue is under consideration for submission to the voters in 1960. It would be a countywide bond issue to correct major road deficiencies both outside and within city limits.

APPROVE BUDGETS

Before they reached the road budget, the supervisors yesterday afternoon gave their assent to the following budgets of the department of public works:

1. A $107,463 engineering services budget.
2. An $8,519 mapping service budget, deleting the job of a draftsman who was to be shifted from the assessor's office.
3. A $3,260 county garage budget, deleting $3,600 for two new county cars.
4. An $82,[illegible] building inspection budget that is expected to show at least $10,000 profit from fees collected.
5. A $4,839 flood control budget.
6. A self-supporting $8,649 trash disposal operation budget.

Marin Appraisal Program Lauded

Richard M. Robbins of Sausalito, real estate appraiser for the Equitable Life Assurance Society in San Francisco, told the Sausalito Rotary Club yesterday that the recent determination of real estate assessments in Marin County "was an excellent job." COLLEGE to reach the maximum salary.

Marin ranks ninth in a list of 16 junior colleges, and its highest unit requirement is in the class of master of arts plus 32 units. Nine other colleges require 30 units, four require 24 units, and two require none. Diablo and Contra Costa, with no increase in two years, are expected to boost pay this year, and if they receive more than $140, Marin will fall to 11th place.

The proposed schedule would raise the Marin master of arts class to sixth place, but it may fall to seventh if Santa Rosa Junior College teachers receive a cost-of-living adjustment.

Only three Marin instructors in steps 15 and 16 are ahead of Tamalpais High School salaries in the same step.

Only two Marin instructors make a higher salary than similarly placed instructors at Monterey Peninsula College, and must wait four more years for this, because of Marin's 16-step schedule. Monterey, previously with an 18-step schedule, has adopted a 12-step schedule.

Monterey and College of Marin are almost exactly comparable because of purpose, size and lack of industry-tax support, but Monterey with less assessed evaluation is able to pay teachers more.

Those who would receive raises, by class, are: Two with special credentials, five with bachelor's degrees; 17 with master's; 16 with master's plus; and four with doctorates.

The proposal would bring steps 10 to 14 up to the level of other institutions.

The minimum increase (and there are no Marin instructors in this category) would be $375; the minimum paid increase $465; median increase $570, and maximum increase $660.

Increases adopted or due in other colleges are: Monterey, minimum $75, maximum $700; Foothill, none and $800; Oakland, minimum $256, maximum $469; American River, $200 on both; Napa, none and $800.

Assembly Passes Compensation Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation increasing the maximum weekly benefit under workmen's compensation to $65 per week was passed by the Assembly today and sent to the Senate.

Under the terms of the measure by Assemblyman Robert Crown (D-Alameda), the maximum pay for temporary disabilities would go up from $50 to $65 a week and the top benefit for a permanent disability would be increased from $40 to $52.50.

Crown told his lower house colleagues that his proposal was a compromise which had been agreed to by lobbyists for both industry and labor.

The measure passed by a 63-5 vote with all five "nos" cast by Republicans.

Library Board Sets $46,615 Budget

Mill Valley Library Board last night set a budget of $46,615 for the 1959-60 year and sent it to the city council for consideration.

Board President Robert Jenkins said that the amount includes both self-liquidating and operational items. Last year's budget was abount $41,000, he said.

The board also considered names of possible replacements for member Robert C. Cook, who has indicated that he will not be available for reappointment when his term expires June 30.

NOVATO

The report's conclusion was based on a 1955 amendment in state law holding that when a territory incorporates, the county should furnish, without additional charge, all services furnished to the area prior to the incorporation.

Jordan, concurring with an opinion of the Los Angeles County counsel, holds that this section is unconstitutional.

The Los Angeles opinion was rendered in connection with the incorporation in 1956 of Baldwin Park.

However, Jordan explained, this does not mean that all county services would be halted the moment Novato incorporates, or even after it incorporates.

There are certain services, Jordan said, that the county can perform legally at any time.

But Jordan feels that the county cannot legally continue services of the department of public works and the planning commission.

In a memorandum to Jensen, Jordan said:

"We could not maintain Novato roads following incorporation unless the board of supervisors made a finding pursuant to the Streets and Highways Code that all Novato roads were of general county interest. This would be pretty hard to justify. Certainly, I do not believe that we are legally obligated to maintain Novato roads following incorporation. . .

"The sheriff actually does have jurisdiction . . . (and) until a police department is established . . . he will have the responsibility of providing law enforcement."

Jordan added that inclusion of Novato's share in the road budget would "in no way affect the situation. Even though included in the budget, subsequent incorporation would relieve the county of all legal responsibility."

It is on this point that a Novato City Council might take exception, and go to court.

If Novato were to be incorporated as of the beginning of the 1959-60 fiscal year, and Jordan's opinion did not hold, the new city apparently would get county assistance only for the one fiscal year.

In this case, according to Jensen, Novato would not be able to collect taxes, because of state Board of Equalization rules, until November, 1960—and for the period between then and the previous fiscal year the city would be without local tax funds. It would, however, have funds from such sources as gasoline taxes, motor registration, business licenses, etc.

The Novato projects, totaling $20,700, in the proposed county road budget are:

Novato boulevard, plant mix overlay from Wilson avenue to Sutro, $8,000; Atherton avenue, plant mix overlay from Armstrong to Highway 101 (800 feet), $1,200 and county participation on railroad signals, $4,000; Olive avenue, railroad signals, $6,000; South Novato boulevard, county participation (one-half) in pedestrian signals at Lynwood School, $1,500.

Busher Explains County Probation Department Needs

Walter Busher, Marin County chief probation officer, emphasized today that a California Youth Authority survey team's recommendations for additional probation department workers reflected the need at the close of last year—not for 1959-60.

Busher asked for an addition of approximately $55,000 to the probation department budget for 1959-60. The county board of supervisors yesterday accepted recommendation of County Administrator Donald A. Jensen for an addition of $35,000. That happened to be the same amount the CYA team had earlier reported as needed to bring the probation staff up to that needed.

"I am talking about the need for next year—not last Dec. 31," said Busher. "The increase recommended by the county administrator will leave us still short of sufficient staff next year."

Four Men Hunted In Knife Threat

Sheriff's deputies are looking for four men suspected of taking a San Rafael moulder for a ride and forcing him to commit lewd acts at knifepoint last midnight.

The victim, David Buenrostro, 29, of 43 Harbor street, San Rafael, told Deputy Leo Ballard the four strangers offered him a ride back to San Rafael from Club Rio in Novato. Instead of driving him home, they turned off into a wooded rural area.

Then they let him out of their convertible near the Smith Brothers ranch north of San Rafael. Buenrostro went to a nearby home and put in a call to the sheriff about 1 a.m.

Mercury Hits 92 In San Anselmo

The mercury soared to 92 degrees in San Anselmo yesterday, making the city the warmest area in the county and creating what is believed to be a record high for the year.

San Rafael just missed tying the record by one degree, according to a reading taken on Marin County Savings and Loan Assn.'s thermometer.

Woodacre reported 90 degrees; Terra Linda, 88; and Novato 87.

San Rafael's noon reading today was 19 degrees below what it was yesterday, but weathermen assured us that the warm would continue.

Two Boys Missing From Juvenile Hall

Two boys who climbed over a fence at Marin Juvenile Hall yesterday and disappeared toward Marinwood were still missing this morning.

David Fogel, superintendent of the hall, called the sheriff at 3:35 p.m. yesterday to report that David Black and Keith F. Kluever, both 16, had escaped over the rear fence. Both were wearing blue jeans and T shirts.

Sheriff's deputies issued a statewide bulletin for their return. Investigators said the youths may be headed for Los Angeles because Kluever's father lives there.

Conservatives Win In British Elections

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative Party today chalked up spectacular victories in local elections throughout Britain.

Results of the voting yesterday gave a powerful boost to Conservative hopes for the election of a new parliament which Macmillan must call before next May.

With nearly all results gathered in, the Conservatives showed a net gain of 158 local council seats and their chief opposition, the Labor party, a net loss of 209. Liberals and Independents accounted for the difference.

Brown Sure His Water Plan In Bag

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown expressed belief today he has more than enough votes in the Senate to put over his proposed $1,750,000,000 bond issue for a vast state water program.

He said more than 21 senators from all parts of the state assured him that they would support the bond issue in its present form. It will require at least 21 of the Senate's 40 votes to send the measure to the Assembly.

The governor, at his news conference, emphasized that "I don't want to say anyone made any commitments."

Brown originally recommended a 960-million-dollar bond issue to finance the first stage of a statewide aqueduct system. The big ditch would move Northern California surplus water to the dry areas to the south.

The governor later decided to increase the bond issue to $1,750,000,000, with project water and power revenue to pay it off.

ALDEN CUNNINGHAM
Chosen for West Point

Marin Cadet Named To West Point

Alden Cunningham, a cadet lieutenant colonel at San Rafael Military Academy, has received an appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., the San Rafael school announced today.

Cadet Cunningham received the appointment of Rep. J. Arthur Younger of California's 9th Congressional District. He will report to West Point about July 1.

The 18-year-old youth is a son of Mrs. Charles L. Daum of San Carlos. He has been battalion commander at the San Rafael academy this school year, as well as holding the highest available cadet commission.

Young Cunningham entered San Rafael Military Academy seven years ago as a sixth grade pupil. He has held "distinctive honors" scholastically the past three years.

He has played on the varsity tennis team for four years and on the varsity basketball team this year, was a class officer in freshman, sophomore and junior years and is senior class representative on the student council.

Laundry Firm Wins Round In Labor Row

Laundromatic Co. of Marin, which has several automatic laundry firms in the county, yesterday won the first round of its legal battle against picketing by Laundry Workers Union Local 26.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court issued a temporary injunction against picketing by the union. The union has 10 days in which to answer. Then a full-scale trial will be set to see if a permanent injunction should be issued.

COMPANY SUES

Last November, when the union began picketing the automatic laundries, charging that the employees were non-union members, the company filed a suit seeking damages and asking that the pickets be called off.

Judge Keating enjoined the union on grounds that picketing to seek a contract for a union shop is in violation of the state Labor Code.

JUDGE'S DECISION

Although the union contended that purpose of the picketing was merely to advertise the fact that the Laundromatic Co. was a non-union shop, the judge decided that the union was seeking a union shop contract with the company.

Judge Keating cited Section 923 of the Labor Code, which says individual workmen "shall be free from the interference, restraint, or coercion of employers of labor or their agents in the designation of such representatives or in self organization or in other collective bargaining or other mutual aid or protection."

Bill To Keep Drug Informers' Names Secret Approved

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill which would allow police to withhold the names of informers in narcotics trials was approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee yesterday.

The bill was introduced by Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) who said that narcotics cases are unique in that, unlike burglaries and robberies, there is no complainant and police must work from tips.

"However," Grunsky said, "if police must reveal the names of their informers their value is soon lost and persons who might inform on narcotics offenders refuse to do so for fear of reprisal."

Opponents to the measure said it would enable a person to be victimized by having narcotics planted on his person or property and then have to prove himself innocent without knowing who attempted to frame him.

Backers of the bill argued that in such a case where the tip alone triggered a search and seizure the court would rule that the informer was a material witness and cause his identity to be revealed.

A TOAST TO TIME

Wed 50 Years, They Still Look Ahead

Two San Anselmans, married in the gas-lit, horse-and-buggy days of San Francisco, will celebrate their golden wedding May 17 amid an age of fluorescent lighting and jet air travel.

During their anniversary luncheon in San Francisco's Mark Hopkins Hotel with friends and relatives from Santa Rosa to as far south as San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anderson of 36 Butterfield road will toast time.

"We will toast the past for the happiness and success we have enjoyed, the present for today's pleasures, and the future for what it promises in even better living," they said today.

Their romance started more than threescore years ago in their native town of Goteborg, Sweden.

Anderson, now 75, came to the United States in 1902 and spent three years in St. Paul, Minn., before joining a brother, Edward, in San Francisco in 1905.

His wife Victoria, now 73, left Goteborg shortly later, joining a sister in Boston. She came to San Francisco after the earthquake and fire of 1906.

Anderson spent 35 years as a cabinet making specialist with the furniture manufacturing firm of Braas and Kuhn, rising to a vice presidency. In 1940 he resigned to become foreman of Forbes Manufacturing Co., which turned out bank, store and office fixtures. He retired in 1954.

The Andersons moved to Fairfax in 1920 where Mrs. Anderson's health immediately improved. They resided in Fairfax 24 years, returning to San Francisco in 1944. They have been living in San Anselmo since 1954.

Anderson helped organize the Vasa Order of America and served as the first manager of its Golden Gate District 12. He is a past Noble Grand of the Odd Fellow Lodge, a former president of the Deer Park Improvement Club and a past trustee of Fairfax School.

Over the years, Mrs. Anderson has been active in the Fairfax Women's Club and in the Swedish unit of the American Red Cross. She and her husband also have been active in Lutheran church affairs.

Helping them celebrate May 17 will be a daughter and a son, Mrs. T. B. Craig, whose husband is assistant manager of the Crocker-Anglo Bank of San Rafael, and Verner Anderson, assistant cashier of the Wells-Fargo Bank in San Francisco; and two grandchildren, Sandra and Arlene Anderson.

Asked their recipe for a happy half century of married life, the Andersons said:

"Don't worry, share everything 50-50 and trust each other."

Labor Unit Backs School Bond Issue

The Marin County Labor Council has voted to endorse the proposed $600,000 Mili Valley School District bond issue, reported Hugh Cassidy, secretary.

The endorsement came after Robert H. Andresen of the school board presented the case for the bond issue.

Susan Hayward, Ava Star In New Marin Film Lineup

By LESLIE DARD

Susan Hayward, fresh from her Oscar victory, heads the cast of one of the three new films on view this weekend in Marin. The others are "The Naked Maja," with Ava Gardner, and "The Seventh Seal," one of the most unusual movies we've ever seen. Here are the details:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"Thunder in the Sun," starring Susan Hayward and Jeff Chandler, is a western, but with a difference. Susan plays a Basque, one of a group trekking to California to found the wine industry. Instead of being attacked by the redskins, these immigrants attack the Indians.

It's in color and will open Sunday.

Along with their vine seedlings, the Basque immigrants bring their traditional agility in mountain warfare, and their oldtime communications systems—high-pitched, maniacal screams.

Jacques Bergerac plays his rival for Miss Hawyard's attention.

This is no Oscar film, but it has plenty of action.

LARK THEATER

"The Seventh Seal" is one of the strangest films I've ever seen, powerful and peculiar, mystical and brooding, horrifying and intense.

Directed by Sweden's Ingmar Bergman, it tells of a knight returning from the Crusades beset by doubts, struggling to understand God and his ways. To gain time—for the Black Plague is raging in his homeland—he plays a game of chess with Death. The stake: His own life.

As he continues his search, he meets fools, corrupt men, lechers, brutes, knaves. And in the final encounter with Death, he learns that there is no answer to life—nor any escape from death.

The happy man in this film is the one who accepts. It's significant that his name is Joseph, his wife is named Mary. And with their child, they move on in contentment.

This is a morality play. And if you seek the unusual, the exotic, by all means see it.

Estimate: Highly recommended.

RAFAEL THEATER

"The Naked Maja," which will be unveiled on the Rafael screen starting Sunday, is Hollywood's version of the passionate affair between the great Spanish painter Goya and the Duchess of Alba.

In Technicolor and Technirama, it stars Ava Gardner as the duchess who preferred saloons to salons and Anthony Franciosa as the hot-blooded youth fresh from the sticks. When he saves her from a ruffian in a tavern, she begins to eye him ravishingly—and the romance is on.

But the queen of Spain is upset by the Duchess' common touch. To save Goya's neck, Ava renounces him and sends him back to Madrid where, in the end the lovers are united—but only as she lies dying of poison administered by the queen's paramour.

The Rafael co-feature will be "Escort West," starring Victor Mature as a former Confederate captain seeking a new life with his little daughter.

The action deals largely with the Modoc Indians and their ability to pin down large forces of whites.

NOVATO THEATER

Through Saturday night, the feature will be "At War With the Army," which Jerry Lewis as a bird-brained private who squeaks all the wrong answers and gets his feet tangled in every assignment. Dean Martin appears as a crooning, debonair sergeant who refuses to allow his close civilian friendship with the private influence Army regulations. Polly Bergen appears as a femme fatale.

Come Sunday the feature will be "Auntie Mame," a refreshing comedy starring Rosalind Russell in the title role.

In color and Technirama, "Mame" tells of a zany female who maintained a salon full of screwballs during the 1920s (among them Forrest Tucker, Coral Brown, Patrick Knowles and Peggy Cass).

She has one true passion: the care and upbringing of her nephew (Jan Handslik as a boy) Roger Smith in young manhood It's a delight all the way.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

"Bad Day at Black Rock," now showing, tells of a handful of men sharing a secret so big it's killing them. The air of the town is heavy with dust and hate when Spencer Tracy gets off the streamliner looking for a Japanese man. The fact that he's even looking, brings out the maniac in Ernie Borgnine, the sadist in Lee Marvin, the paranoia in Robert Ryan and the whisky bottle in Sheriff Dean Jagger's desk drawer.

How Tracy confounds these troubled people made for the most suspenseful film of 1955. In color, its cast also includes Ann Francis, Walter Brennan and John Ericson.

The co-feature is "The Last Time I Saw Paris," starring Van Johnson and Elizabeth Taylor as a couple of rootless Americans in Europe. It's based rather loosely on an F. Scott Fitzgerald story (Babylon Revisited) and emerges as a heart-catching romance.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Imitation of Life" (color), opening Sunday, was first made in 1934 and proved one of the most profitable films of its time. The new version is somewhat more realistic, the sentiment is heartier and the characters more delicately realized.

In 1934, Claudette Colbert and Louise Beavers struggled to prosperity with pancake flour. This time, Lana Turner and Juanita Hall are the ladies who seek happiness.

However, Lana is cast into the world of the theater, an ambitious widow who thrusts aside the preying wolves and—by sheer courage and talent—wins a foothold on the stage.

Meanwhile, the Negro woman with whom Lana has endured early adversity has a daughter (Susan Kohner) who wants to pass as white. The brutal rebuff bring nothing but heartbreak to mother and child.

The real acting honors belong to the two young ladies.

FAIRFAX THEATER

"The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker," starring Clifton Webb as a turn-of-the century bigamist.

In spite of his waspish effrontery, Mr. Webb's views are not meant to be taken seriously, for this is a comedy (based on a stage success).

As Pennypacker, he has settled into a happy marriage with a large and noisy family. In fact, he likes family life so much he sets up housekeeping in Philadelphia, where business takes him regularly.

Alas, he is found out and the situation must be righted.

Assisting in this whimsy are Dorothy McGuire as his wife, and Charles Coburn, as the rollicking grandfather to Webb's 15 offspring. It's in color.

The co-feature is "The Sheriff of Fractured Jaw," a frequently very funny spoof of westerns starring Kenneth Moore and Jayne Mansfield. In color and CinemaScope.

MARIN MOTOR MOVIES

"The Sad Horse" (color, CinemaScope) is a fairly charming film which tells of the ranch adventures of a boy (David Ladd), his dog and his horse.

The co-feature is "The Little Savage," a mixture of "Blackbeard the Pirate" and "Treasure Island." It stars Pedro Armendariz and Christiane Martel.

"THE NAKED MAJA"—Ava Gardner, as the Duchess of Alba, and Anthony Franciosa as Francisco Goya, attempt to foil the conspiracies of the Spanish Court which is opposed to their love affair. "The Naked Maja," a United Artists release, filmed in Technirama and Technicolor, will open Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

Higher Pay For Legislators Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A constitutional amendment was proposed in the Senate yesterday to increase the monthly salary of legislators from $500 to $750.

The pay raise was introduced by Sen. Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) and differs from the constitutional amendment turned down by the voters at the last election by setting a definite salary.

The defeated proposal would have based the salaries of legislators on the average paid the five highest paid boards of supervisors in the state, or approximately $9,000 a year.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

If You Can't Read Menu, Point; Sabella's Contest Intrigues 124

Well, I just hope the Forrest Randolphs got as well fed at La Petite Auberge as we did. If not it's their own fault even if they did forget their glasses and couldn't read the menu. Both my wife and I forgot ours, too, and we still came out ahead.

I still don't know what they decided to order because at that point we were busy on the Souffle au Grand Marnier, which is something to occupy anyone's rapt attention.

Mrs. C. had already disposed of her Grenadin de Filet Bordelaise and what I'd done to the Boeuf Bourguignon should only happen to an excellent meal. Anything in the dessert line that followed ran the risk of being an anticlimax, but the souffle wasn't and we left the table thoroughly pleased with ourselves and the fare.

Figuratively, because I seldom wear one, my hat is off to Paul De Vaux and Pierre Flobert for upholding their national tradition for fine cooking. One party I know put it this way:

"It's like home cooking would be if your wife could cook like that."

P.S. If you forget your glasses, too, because you don't want to be embarassed by a lot of French words on the menu you don't understand, just point to anything that sounds interesting and order it. You won't go wrong.

THE CONTEST to unscramble Sabella's "ASOLABISIBULE" ad brought forth 124 replies from people who recognized it as a transmutation of the word "Bouillabaise." The same also came up with long lists of possible words from the scrambled letters.

Contestant with the mostest was H. O. Douglas of Tiburon, with 490, which won him a pair of dinners on the house, including champagne. Two dinners also go to Sibyl Schneller of Mill Valley, only other contestant to pass the 400 mark.

Other word contributions in prose and poetry included testimonials on Sabella's special Bouillabaise a la Marseillaise, a gourmet delight in every sense of the word—no matter how it's spelled.

If you were one of the 124 who tried and didn't make it, don't be disheartened. There'll be a consolation prize for you next time you go by Sabella's.

YOU COULD hardly have missed Trader Horn's full page ad last night about his grand opening. Happens you did, be advised that festivities are still going on tonight and tomorrow.

Dancing and entertainment by the Treasure Tones, lately from New Mexico. Maybe that's where they picked up some of the Latin flavor. Almost the entire group doubles on more than one instrument. Don't be fooled—it's still the same orchestra, no matter what they're playing.

IF ANYONE asks me, "what about the Buckeye?" all I can say is it's as solid in Marin as the tree it's named after, which is not a very witty comeback, I admit, but it has some truth at that.

The Buckeye restaurant has been here so long now, a lot of people sort of take it for granted as part of the scenery from the Richardson Bridge, and some of them may even drive by it day after day without ever going inside to find out what it's doing there.

I might just suggest that Mother's Day will be as good a time as any to try out its excellent German cooking—open at 2 p.m. Use it as an occasion to give mom a treat away from the kitchen. Sure, I know she's a good cook, but maybe she'd like a change.

OTHER RESTAURANTS will undoubtedly open early this Sunday, too—check your favorite spot.

Rubini's in Fairfax, I know, plans to start Mother's Day dinners at high noon. Reservations here not only advisable, they're a must. You wouldn't want mom waiting around all afternoon for a table, would you? Phone ahead.

MAURICE GURIDI, between running Pierre's French restaurant in Sausalito and the Casa Madrone Hotel up the hill, had more work than he could handle. It was a case of getting rid of one of the other or sacrificing service in both.

With the luck of his Basque ancestors, he came upon the Robert Deschamps family just arrived in the Bay Area from Montreal. They liked the Casa Madrone, decided to take it over and are now busy remodeling it. When completed, dinners will be served nightly.

The Deschamps are no strangers to the business. Seems that in France they owned and operated the historic Pension Moliere just outside Bordeaux. They might just turn it into something nice—it has a beautiful view of the bay, this Casa Madrone. You never know—it may have been a sleeper.

10 LUCKIEST ROTARIANS IN THE WORLD

TEXCOCO, Mexico (AP)—Ten of the luckiest Rotarians in the world today are Texcoco businessmen who decided at a club meeting to buy a lottery ticket together.

Their ticket won the main prize of $800,000 in the national drawing Wednesday night. Each man will get $80,000.

The town of 12,000, 20 miles from Mexico City, went wild at the news. There were reports some of the winnings might be donated for public works, including a stadium.

Pacific Trade Organization Being Studied

TOKYO (AP)—A plan to establish a Pacific trade organization among free nations of Asia, the United States, Canada and Latin American countries is under consideration, a member of a San Francisco trade delegation disclosed yesterday.

The plan was disclosed by James P. Wilson, secretary of the World Trade Assn.'s San Francisco area and manager of the world trade department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Wilson said "the idea is still nothing but an idea."

Wilson said a copy of the plan was given to U.S. Ambassador Douglas MacArthur II when he arrived here to attend the International Trade Fair in Tokyo, which opened May 5.

Wilson is a member of a five-man delegation to Japan to promote trade relations between San Francisco and Japan.

Pt. Reyes Teacher Granted Tenure

Pt. Reyes School District trustees Wednesday night granted tenure to Mrs. Ada Nielsen, principal-teacher of the one-room Pt. Reyes School. Her salary for 1958-59 was $5,600, but it has not been determined for next year.

The district's budget will be discussed at the June 3 meeting.

Bolshoi Ballet Gross Is High But So's Cost

NEW YORK (AP) — Ballet dancing is big business—when the Bolshoi troupe of Moscow performs.

Sponsors estimate the troupe's U.S.-Canadian tour will gross well over two million dollars.

But figuring the profit is difficult.

"For something as big as this," commented a management aide, "I can tell you one thing sure—the margin ain't big."

ENDS MET STAND

This weekend the renowned company is winding up the triumphant initial stand at the Metropolitan Opera House. Next comes a week of added performances in Madison Square Garden.

After that, the troupe moves on to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Toronto and Montreal, where the visit concludes June 21.

Virtually all performances en route have been sellouts for weeks, to the perceptible comfort of the trip's sponsors, impresario Sol Hurok and the American National Theatre and Academy.

The Hurok office says the Met engagement brought in $700,000; another $350,000 will come in from the Garden; and "well over a million" is in prospect from the other four cities.

BASIC COSTS

Skimmed immediately from this rich trove are what the Hurok office calls basic weekly costs. These include $50,000 to the Bolshoi management; auditorium rentals (the Met cost $25,000 a week); wages for 65 stagehands, another $22,000; the pay for 91 musicians, $25,000, and per diem allotments to all the company for hotel rooms and food.

In addition to the basic charges are other costs for which figures are not readily available. These include amortizing the company's airplane passage and transportation of performers, costumes and scenery on tour.

Tax Increase Held Vital To Ross Schools

Samuel A. Harkleroad, Novato building designer and contractor, believes he has a home owner's answer to the sonic boom, earthquakes and the vicissitudes of the sun.

The answer, he maintains, is found in the hyperbolic paraboloid roof—a leaf-like structure shaped with a compound bend and held in place with tensioned steel cables. He has recently completed a house with just such a roof on the crest of a Novato hill near Alice avenue, overlooking Highway 101. "It's the only one of its kind used for a residence on the West Coast," he says.

The unusual shape and construction of the roof greatly reduce the effect that jet noises have on conventional houses, Harkleroad claims. And because it is entirely dependent on the cable suspension, "even if the walls were to fall, the roof would stay up."

The roof, shaped like a flattened-out football, arches gently from a point 14 inches from the ground at one side of the house, blocking sunlight from all windows throughout the summer months but allowing it to enter during the winter.

Harkleroad, who built the three-bedroom house himself over the past nine months, hopes to sell the three-bedroom home for $33,000. Then he plans to build more homes of the same general design in Marin County. "They will cost $50,000 to $75,000," he says.

The peculiarly lined roof, weighing 21 tons, is made of four layers of laminated wood, providing for "built-in" insulation, Harkleroad reports. It is four inches thick, 3,000 square feet in area.

The builder estimates that 3,000 persons have visited the house since construction started.

Four Newcomers Challenging Two Incumbents For College Board

All of the area in San Rafael and Tamalpais High School Districts is within Marin Junior College District, for which two members of the five-member board will be elected May 19.

Both incumbents, Rupert E. Kempf of Sausalito and George G. Washburn of San Anselmo, are candidates for re-election. And they have four challengers. The two receiving the highest number of votes will be elected to four-year terms.

Besides the incumbents, the candidates are Francis B. Boone, Fairfax attorney; Alan D. Ewen of Mill Valley, assistant executive director of the Winter Olympics; Harry Leff Jr., Corte Madera engineer, and Robert E. Oliver of San Rafael, U.S. Steel executive.

One position on the board was filled by appointment early this year when Kent O. Seymour of Mill Valley was named to succeed his business partner, Col. William A. Hamilton, who resigned. Although in high school and elementary school districts, a trustee so appointed must stand for election at the next school election, the law is different for junior school districts. Seymour will continue to serve by appointment until expiration of Hamilton's term next year.

Incidentally, although the junior college district includes all of San Rafael High School District, all its present board members are from Tamalpais High School District: chairman Ada M. Fusselman and Washburn from San Anselmo, Kempf from Sausalito, Seymour from Mill Valley and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy from Ross. And only one of the candidates resides within the San Rafael district.

Here are the candidates:

FRANCIS B. BOONE, 38, of 22 Valley road, Fairfax, is making his second try for the junior college board. He ran fourth in last year's election in which Mrs. Fusselman and Mrs. Deedy were the winners.

Boone is a lawyer with an office in San Rafael. He was sharply critical of "busy-work" type courses at the college in last year's campaign.

He is a World War II Air Force veteran, educated at Bates College in Maine, University of California at Los Angeles and University of San Francisco School of Law. His affiliations are all legal societies.

He is a member of the board of review of the City of Fairfax. He has taken some College of Marin adult education courses and participated in Great Books and World Politics courses.

ALAN D. EWEN, 37, of 350 Vista Linda drive, Mill Valley, also is a World War II veteran and received a battlefield commission as Army second lieutenant in Europe. He is former assistant athletic director of University of Southern California and now assistant executive director of the Winter Olympics. He is a graduate of U.S.C., with a master's degree in education. His current bid is his first bid for public office.

He was born in Summerland, B.C., Canada.

RUPERT E. KEMPF, consulting engineer, general contractor and real estate broker, lives at 39 Sunshine avenue, Sausalito. He was formerly chief engineer of Best Foods, Inc.

He served on the Sausalito School District Board before being named to the junior college board.

He is a native of Idaho and a longtime Marin resident. He and his wife, Marie Dorothy, have two daughters, one married and the other at University of California in Berkeley.

HARRY LEFF JR., 29, also making his first bid for public office, resides at 84 Summit drive, Corte Madera. He is an engineer for the state Division of Highways.

Leff was born in Salt Lake City, Utah, and received his advanced education at University of Utah and through summer sessions and extension courses of University of California. Fencing and judo are among his hobbies.

He and his wife, Kathryn, have two young daughters.

ROBERT E. OLIVER, 38, is manager of commercial research for United States Steel Corp. in San Francisco. He resides at 56 Circle road, San Rafael.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, but has lived in the Bay Area since before his marriage. He served in the Army finance department in World War II as a lieutenant.

Oliver has been active and held offices in the American Marketing Assn. and National Industrial Conference Board. He is a past president of the Los Ranchitos Improvement Assn.

He and his wife, Mary Gertrude, have four children ranging from six to 12 years.

GEORGE G. WASHBURN, 66, is a veteran member of the junior college board, a former San Anselmo city judge and city councilman and secretary-manager of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce. He resides at 19 Bank street, San Anselmo.

Washburn was born in San Francisco. He received a law degree from Golden Gate College.

He and his wife, Marie, have one daughter, Mrs. Georgia M. Marshall of Kentfield.

Fight Vowed Over Sale Of VFW's Town

YREKA, Siskiyou County (UPI) —A local official of the Veterans of Foreign Wars promises to "raise a big row" over the proposed sale of the town of Tennant, by the organization's national committee.

W. D. Houston, past 20th District commander of the VFW, said the International Paper Co. had given the town to the veterans' organization with the idea that it would become a war pensioner's community.

The town lies at the foot of Mt. Shasta and contains 100 homes and other buildings including a school, store, library and church. It was given to the VFW in November, 1957.

Houston said the sale was an attempt "to cut a big fat hog." He promised to "raise a big row" at the next national convention of the VFW, providing the town was sold.

But Byron Gentry, Pasadena city prosecutor and legal representative for the VFW's 17th District, said plans for the pensioners' community failed to materialize because of costs.

He added that the site of the town had water problems and suffered severe winters.

New Report Links Cigarettes, Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — Another medical report linking lung cancer with smoking says the total smoking a person does is the important factor, not the period of consumption.

The new report, covering a seven-year period and involving 500 lung cancer victims, was announced yesterday by the U.S. Public Health Service and the American Cancer Society.

Eight of the patients were non-smokers. Nineteen smoked pipes or cigars.

Most of the 473 cigarette smokers had smoked at least 9,125 packs in their lifetime. This averaged out to a pack a day over a 25-year period, or two packs a day for 12½ years.

"The total number of packs smoked during life is the important variable, and it makes no difference whether the total effect was accumulated over a short or long period of time," the report said.

The report also said the study "does not prove causation but it is highly suggestive and no evidence has been presented that disproves such an hypothesis."

Those starting to smoke while young, the report said, are slightly more liable to lung cancer than those smoking the same total after a later start.

City Councilmen Deserve Praise For Parking Action

"I wish to compliment the council for its most aggressive action. It is a refreshing and encouraging thing."

When Irving Chapman, a leader among Fourth Street merchants in San Rafael, uttered those words to the city council the other night, he probably thought of them as "just one man's opinion."

But we firmly believe they were much more than that.

We think that Chapman, unwittingly perhaps, spoke for a great majority of progressive San Rafael businessmen when he addressed the council.

What he referred to, of course, was the council's action in moving ahead toward the development of one more new off-street parking lot in the down-town shopping area. The newest one is planned for an area between Lootens place and Cijos street and will accommodate 64 more cars.

When this newest lot is open, downtown San Rafael will in our estimation still need more off-street parking facilities.

Over a period of a decade several comprehensive studies have been conducted of the city's parking and traffic problems. A couple of master plans have been devised for alleviating the problems.

Several experiments have been conducted with one-way street systems. It always seemed to us that through traffic benefitted considerably during the one-way street trials. However, each time the plans died when affected merchants complained of serious loss of business. Unquestionably, San Rafael must ultimately come to a one-way street system, just like most other congested cities of the nation. We must if we are to stay in competition as a major shopping area, that is.

A number of parking plans resulted from the aforementioned studies and each provided for somewhat more off-street spaces than we have yet obtained; more even than we will have when the latest new lot is open.

Thus, while we join Chapman and others in lauding the city council's forward step, we further take occasion to urge continued efforts to find a solution to our problem of downtown traffic congestion.

This One We Don't Have

We have written several times in this editorial column about Marin being a paradise for garden pests. Certainly, it is a fact. However, there is one terribly destructive insect from which California and Marin have been thus far thankfully spared.

We refer to the Japanese beetle. This half inch long, greenish bundle of uncontrollable appetite feeds upon more than 250 varieties of plants, trees and shrubs. Since the first half dozen were discovered near Philadelphia in 1916, they have been moving steadily westward. Now they are well into Iowa and beyond.

Within the past year one was found at Los Angeles Airport and one at Travis Air Force Base. These were detected and destroyed. But it seems a safe bet that sooner or later these voracious beetles are going to make it to the beetles' paradise called Marin.

Then, ladies and gentlemen, we can really give our spray guns a workout. Until then, let's be thankful there is one we don't have.

SMALL INVESTMENT—BIG RETURN

A Chicago lawyer was happily surprised to learn that a painting he bought for $1,000 was actually worth $1,000,000.

The 17" by 15" masterpiece, "Christ Carrying the Cross," was one of the last painted by the Venetian artist, Giorgione, before his death in 1510.

The lawyer, whose hobby is art detection and collecting, said he bought it from a local dealer who knew little or nothing of its history or value.

Everyone likes a bargain and it's always comforting to find that a small investment is going to bring a big return. Even more tang can be added to the spirit of adventure if our bargain-hunting propensities are applied to seeking greater treasures than money, jewels or art.

Man is primarily a spirit and his entire life on earth should be a quest for the breathtaking spiritual wealth that benefits us here below and which will endure for the endless years of eternity.

After Bleak Winter And Spring, New York A Wonderful Town

NEW YORK (AP)—New York is a beautiful town.

Right now after a hard spring and a winter so stern its icicles stuck out like cactus thorns, eight million New Yorkers listen to the drum of revival.

In the warm, bright air, Manhattan turns toward tomorrow with a yawn of sureness.

It is wonder all over. Now you don't know where the next bud or smile or traffic ticket will bloom from.

The sun, emerging from weeks of clouds, breaks out dark glasses and decrees 10 times 10 million freckles.

The magic moment of difference has come. The policeman gives an unfinished lecture. Traffic goes more slowly than usual because this is a day when everybody is going to be later than usual and not mind it.

At this time of the year, New York gives you the feeling of a bubble coming out of a bottle.

The town has an ever-renewable champagne excitement.

New York is the place where George Washington was sworn in as president and gruff Mark Twain growled about his chow and put out the "welcome mat" for mysterious strangers from heaven.

New York is a place of adventure to strangers. Millions journey around the world to see it.

New York is as colloquial as the smallest country town, able with its gossip to stir mighty echoes.

New York is the world's greatest landscape for dreamers, a pasture beyond individual ownership.

New York is the most open and hospitable municipality in the land. It's the kind of place where the first thing a guy wants to do when he comes here is to bring in a relative.

New York is the only city in the world which has a running race over whether it can tear itself down faster than it can build itself up.

Geneva Meeting Unlikely To Be Either Simple Success Or Failure

IN COMMENTING on the approaches to Geneva and to the summit there is a temptation to which all of us are subject. It is to apply too soon and too often the test of success or failure.

The negotiations which have now begun will last for a long time. They could last for a generation. In the course of that long time there will be many changes which cannot now be foreseen clearly. For what is being begun now by the statesmen of the older generation will probably not be concluded until there is a new generation.

There is no present prospect that the negotiations will "succeed," if by that is meant that they will produce a final settlement of the German problem. On the other hand, there is no prospect, it seems to me, that they will "fail," if by that is meant that there will be no more negotiations and that this will be followed by some sort of mobilization for war.

We must rid ourselves of the rubber stamp notions of success and failure. The German problem is at present insoluble. No theoretical solution of it would be worth a great war to either side, and both sides know that the question could not be settled by a war. The world has to live with the German question, producing as best it can and from time to time a modus vivendi without any serious expectation of a settlement.

THE GERMAN question lies in the fact that the German Reich, as founded by Bismarck in 1871, has been partitioned as a result of the defeat of Hitler. Berlin, which was the capital of the old German Reich, has itself been partitioned. The partition of Germany is the consequence of the second World War, and it could become the cause of the third World War.

We ask ourselves, could the partition of Germany have been avoided? No one knows the answer. For this is just about the iffiest question in world affairs. What we can say is that the partition of Germany arises from the fact that the Red Army coming from the East, the Allied army coming from the West, met in the middle of Germany. They would not have met if Hitler had not attacked Russia and brought her into the war. They would not have met if the Allies, including the United States, had been strong enough to occupy the whole of Germany before the Russians got there. The fact is, however, that they did get there and that the West got there and that that was how Hitler's Reich was conquered.

WAS PARTITION the necessary and the inevitable result? Here again all is iffiness. Was it from the beginning the Soviet intention to dismember Germany? Or would the Soviet Union once upon a time have settled for a neutralized and lightly armed united Germany, hoping, of course, that the German Communists would infiltrate the German socialists, and eventually rule the whole of Germany? On the other hand, were the Western Allies wise in thinking that this risk was so great that, instead of working for an evacuation by the Red Army, they insisted upon the rearmament of Western Germany in alliance with their own forces?

Questions such as those are no longer real questions. Europe has out-lived them and what we are now facing is the historic fact that there are two Germanys and two Berlins.

The German crisis of today is the crisis of the adjustment of the great powers to the partition of Germany.

The adjustment will be a very complicated experience. For the partition of Germany is as great an historic event as was the unification of Germany under Bismark. The adjustment to this historic fact involves on both sides of the Iron Curtain some kind of recognition of most unpalatable facts. On the Western sied it involves recognition that there are two German states. On the Russian side it involves a recognition that there are two Berlins, and that West Berlin must remain a part of the Western community.

The acceptance of these unpalatable facts, and their recognition in legal instruments which are enforcible, will be the core of the coming negotiations. The object of the negotiations will be a modus vivendi which, while it recognizes that there is in fact a partition of Germany, keeps alive the right and the hope of an eventual reunion.

Chief Reilly Not Only DSC Winner

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

There are many heroes, sung and unsung, and those who sing and those who do not. The greatest of them are those who avert wars and may there be many from future generations.

I am writing to congratulate Chief Charles Reilly and also to inform you and him that my husband was awarded the D.S.C. in Paris on March 23, 1945, and the Croix de Guerre with palm or cluster at Hamilton Field on August 7, 1945. Aside from these two decorations, he has been awarded the D.F.C. with one oak leaf cluster, the air medal with 12 oak leaf clusters, the Swedish Medal of Honor campaign ribbons and a presidential unit citation.

I believe there is at least one Congressional Medal of Honor hero living in Marin and undoubtedly there are others who hold the Navy Cross or the D.S.C.

Perhaps Chief Reilly meant that he was the only World War I hero living in Marin who holds the D.S.C. and the Croix de Guerre. At any rate, I hope that you will make certain of your facts and statements before printing them.

Passage Of Time Has Brought Many Changes Around Courthouse

SOME THINGS you might never notice if you didn't take a stroll through the courthouse (with apologies to Hal Boyle):

Birds have built nests in the columns of the portico.

Ernest Vogel, the elderly gentleman from Novato — sometimes called the "mayor of Novato" tries to keep his eyes on the Board of Supervisors. He tries — but sometimes he falls asleep.

PLANNING DIRECTOR Mrs. Mary Summers takes exception to the air conditioning. Clad in a sleeveless summer cotton she shivered at a board meeting. That is until Deputy County Clerk Fran Warner took pity and loaned Mrs. Summers a leather and woolen coat.

Both Mrs. Warner and Deputy George Gnoss sat in for George Jones at a board meeting this week. They kept whittling away at the pile of county business while Jones sunned in Apple Valley where he was attending a jury commissioners convention.

People who haven't been around for awhile try to get into the sheriff's office through a solid wall. The door used to be on the east side of the basement. Now it's on the west. Probably this wouldn't confuse anyone trying to escape — unless there's an oldtimer around.

The brass markers on the grave decoration plaque in the front lobby are coated and dingy. A little polish might bring them back to a respectable shine.

PEOPLE WHO HAVEN'T been around for a long time don't remember so many notices on the bulletin board outside the county clerk's office. Business must be brisk—legal business, that is. It's a sign the county is growing, and county official business is growing too.

Vases full of gladioluses brighten the offices of the auditor-controller department.

Planner Bill Dobbs wore a nice tie the other day and he complimented his wife for her choice.

People who haven't been around for awhile note the big new annex, but it might be noted also that that is a mighty strange passage from the first floor of the annex to the first floor of the old courthouse — right through the auditor's office.

The trees on the courthouse grounds are lovely. Progress and the pressing, booming advance of county business have not done away with them.

DARK HORSE RATING

Gov. Meyner of New Jersey Is Running For Presidency

By Congressional Quarterly

WASHINGTON — New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner (D) has unofficially but firmly put himself in the running for the 1960 Democratic Presidential nomination.

The news itself is perhaps less surprising than the timing of the move.

Meyner has long been suspected of harboring an ambition to follow the political path of another New Jersey governor, Woodrow Wilson.

But intimates say caution is Meyner's chief characteristic (he didn't marry until he was 48), and chances are he would not have moved his candidacy out in the open even yet had not Democratic Sens. John F. Kennedy (Mass.) and Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) forced such a fast early pace.

MEYNER'S POLITICAL operatives have been scouting the field at Democratic rallies around the country and they have told him flatly he must make his move now or be left in the lurch.

Heeding this advice, Meyner in the last few weeks has:

- Come to Washington to deliver a major foreign policy speech before the influential National Capital Democratic Club.
- Told the Democratic National Committee he's available for speaking dates anywhere and almost any time.
- Put himself in line for the trip to Moscow that is almost becoming a prerequisite for a Presidential campaign.

THE CHIEF ASSET Meyner brings to his campaign for national attention is the record of what he has accomplished in normally-Republican New Jersey. He took the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1953 when almost no one else wanted it and, thanks in part to a major Republican scandal, became the state's first Democratic governor in 13 years.

In 1956, when President Eisenhower carried New Jersey by three-quarters of a million votes, pundits rated Meyner's chances for reelection almost nil. But he came back in 1957 to win a second term with an improved majority. Not only did Meyner himself make an impressive showing, but the Democrats captured the lower house of the state legislature for the first time in 20 years.

In 1958, his prestige rose even higher when his personal choice, Harrison A. Williams Jr., became the first Democrat elected to the Senate from New Jersey in 22 years.

In more than five years in office, Meyner, now a graying but athletic 50, has provided a brand of government that has won broad support from Republicans and independents. His success in persuading the GOP state senate to accept a business profit tax in 1958 enabled him to present a balanced budget with no tax increases this year — a feat which has drawn envious glances from the other states.

Despite his middle-of-the-road approach in New Jersey, where his squabbles with organized labor have been frequent, Meyner's stands on such national issues as civil rights, unemployment compensation, foreign aid and reciprocal trade definitely put him in the liberal Democratic camp.

BY NORMAL RULES of politics, such a man ought to be a strong contender for national honors. But, in fact, Democrats rate Meyner as a long-shot for the Presidential nomination.

The overwhelming importance of foreign policy and national security questions — areas in which he has had relatively little experience — put Meyner at a disadvantage compared to the party's Senate hopefuls. He has been overseas twice already this year in an effort to acquire the needed background.

Another matter troubling some party leaders is Meyner's religious status. He was raised as a Catholic, left the church in his teens and has joined no other denomination. His aides say this "problem" simply has not been a problem in New Jersey, a state that is fairly sensitive to Catholic-Protestant divisions.

The Meynerites (and they include enough men of means to assure him adequate campaign funds) do not dispute his present rating as a very dark horse in the Presidential race. They just remind people that 14 months before the 1952 convention, nobody thought much of Adlai Stevenson's chances either.

MOMENTS AFTER ATTACK — Shirley O'Neill (second from right) and an unidentified girl try to comfort fatally injured Albert Kogler, 18, as he lies on beach near Golden Gate Bridge moments after the youth was attacked by a big shark. Beside Miss O'Neill, who risked an attack by the shark in aiding Kogler, is San Francisco Patrolman Harry Paretchan, his uniform covering the injured youth. Man at left unidentified. (AP Wirephoto) hazardous to swimmers. It can be reached only by way of the Presidio, he said)

Miss O'Neill, a resident of San Francisco, said she and Kogler were strolling along the beach on the summery afternoon when they decided to take a cooling dip in the ocean.

They had been in the water about 10 minutes, she said, when she heard Albert scream, "Go back! Go back! It's a shark!"

Turning toward her companion, Miss O'Neill saw "a big black shape and what looked like a tail" break the surface near him.

"It's a shark! Go back!" Albert screamed again.

CRIES FOR HELP

The girl heeded the second warning. As she swam ashore, she could hear Kogler crying, "Help me."

Miss O'Neill ran from the water to Joe Intersonine, a fireman, and John D. Dennis, a mailman, who were fishing nearby. Determined to save Kogler if she could, the courageous girl had Intersonine tie a fishing line about her waist. Then she plunged back into the surf.

When she reached the wounded youth she grabbed him and started pulling him ashore through the bloodied water as Intersonine reeled in his line. She said one of Kogler's arms "seemed to be hanging by a thread."

"I grabbed him around his back, but it was all bloody and I could see his insides," she said. "He kept screaming and yelling, so I finally told him to lie on his back and relax.

"He did that, but the pain must have been awful. If he hadn't, I wouldn't have been able to get him back. . . . There was blood all around us, and the first thing I thought was 'God, help him.' I was scared to death."

Army M/Sgt. Leo Day of Pacifica spotted the patch of blood from a bluff overlooking the beach. He ran down to help in the rescue. Meanwhile, other spectators had called police.

SUMMON VESSEL

Patrolman Harry Paretchan, first officer on the scene, realized no ambulance could travel on the sandy beach. He saw a Coast Guard patrol vessel in the area and fired three alerting pistol shots, then waved his arms.

The patrol craft radioed for assistance. A short time later, a half-ton Coast Guard pickup truck rolled onto the beach.

The fatally injured Kogler was conscious but almost incoherent after Miss O'Neill brought him ashore. He kept whimpering, "air . . . air," but the extent of his wounds made an artificial respiration attempt out of the question.

Before the Coast Guard truck arrived, Officer Paretchan and the girl tried mouth-to-mouth respiration, blowing air into the boy's lungs. But this offered no relief, Paretchan said.

Kogler was placed on the bed of the truck and taken to Letterman Hospital, where he underwent surgery almost immediately. He succumbed shortly after the emergency operation.

Miss O'Neill, composed while telling the story of the arduous rescue, broke down and cried while being driven to Letterman by Sergeant Day. She was treated at the hospital for shock.

Born in San Francisco, young Kogler resided with his mother, Mrs. McGrath, at 2426 Twenty-sixth avenue. While studying at San Francisco State, where he specialized in business and finance, he lived at the Delta Phi Gamma fraternity house at 768 Elizabeth street.

His father was appointed to the Corte Madera Town Council last November after serving three years as chairman of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission.

A resident of Marin for five years, Councilman Kogler is a partner in the San Francisco investment firm of Hooker and Fay. He and his second wife, Louise, live at 10 Echo avenue with their four children, Sandra, 22, an adopted daughter; Ralph, 7; Albert Jr., 2, and Lu Veda, 1.

Albert Carl was Kogler's only child by his first marriage. A half-brother and half-sister are Robert and Kathy McGrath.

Funeral service swill be held Monday at 3:30 p.m. at Halsted and Co., San Francisco.

Gen. Lew Wallace, who was territorial governor of New Mexico, wrote much of his celebrated novel, "Ben Hur," while serving in office.

Girl Tells Of Try To Save Shark's Victim

(Albert Kogler, 18, was attacked yesterday by a shark and died several hours later. The following account is by the 18-year-old girl who pulled him ashore.)

By SHIRLEY O'NEILL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—We'd been in for about 15 minutes and were out maybe 40 or 50 yards when he said:

"We're out pretty far now, let's not go any farther, it'd be too dangerous."

We were treading water as we were talking.

We were just about to start back, and I was looking away from him, toward the Golden Gate when I heard him scream.

I turned around and saw this big thing flap up into the air. I didn't know if it was a fin or a tail. I knew it was some kind of fish.

There was a thrashing in the water, and I knew he was struggling with it. It must have been pretty big.

He screamed again:

"It's a shark. . . . Get out of here!"

I started swimming back. I swam a few strokes, but then I thought to myself:

"I can't just leave him here."

I was scared. I didn't know what to do, but I knew I couldn't leave him.

I turned around and took a couple of strokes back.

He just kept screaming and screaming . . . it was a horrible scream. . . . He was shouting:

"Help me, help me!"

I grabbed for his hand . . . he kept screaming and yelling. So finally I told him:

"The only way I can do it is if you lie still on your back . . . lie back and relax."

He did that. If he hadn't, I never would have been able to get him back.

He didn't scream after that. The pain must have been awful, but he wasn't complaining. He was helping me all he could. . . .

There doesn't seem to be anything more to say.

Liz To Marry In Green Dress

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Elizabeth Taylor's high-necked chiffon dress for her wedding to singer Eddie Fisher next Tuesday will be in her favorite color—green.

The dark-haired actress commissioned famed designer Jean Louis to create her dress. Louis said yesterday the dress of cocktail-length was made entirely of chiffon, with long sleeves and a drape neck which forms a hood.

"Miss Taylor will carry a bouquet of green orchids and white lilies of the valley," the designer said.

Ocean Swimming Warning Issued

The San Francisco Police Department today radioed throughout the nine Bay Area counties a warning against swimming in ocean and bay.

The bulletin was dispatched after a morning-long conference of Police Chief Thomas Cahill and Deputy Chief Al Nelder which resulted from the killing of a swimmer by a shark yesterday. It will be read at public and parochial schools throughout the area, Nelder said.

It warned:

"In the interests of public safety, the police department advises all swimmers to avoid swimming in open ocean waters as the presence and movement of dangerous sharks is unpredictable. Parents are urged to instruct their children to avoid surf and open water bathing in the ocean and the bay."

Day's Proceeds Will Benefit Kids' Fund

All net receipts of Joe Carelone's Shell Oil Station at 630 Sir Francis Drake boulevard, San Anselmo, on tomorrow will be given to the underprivileged children's fund of the Ross Valley Kiwanis Club, Bill Maier, club vice president, announced today.

Kiwanians will operate the station between 7 a.m. and 9 p.m. Balloons will be given to children. Pretty girls will wash car windshields, said Maier.

Mothers Day Program Slated By Adventists

A Mothers Day program will be given tomorrow at 7:45 a.m. in the Fairfax Seventh-day Adventist Church, 75 Park road, by the church school children.

Mrs. Alice Le Griede, in charge of the program, said the children have a special treat for the mothers.

Firm In Labor Row Leaves Housing Job

A firm subcontracting labor for installing kitchen cabinets in the Capehart housing project at Hamilton Air Force Base has pulled out and laid off its workers, it was learned today.

Carpenters Union Locals 35 and 1710 had objected to the subcontracting of the labor by Murray-Sanders and Associates, the principal contractor, through International Homes Corp. Rules of the Bay Counties Council of Carpenters forbid the existence of a labor contractor.

International withdrew and notified its 120 employees they were laid off Wednesday night, it was learned today. As far as could be learned, however, there was no work stoppage, the majority of the force merely changing employers.

Injured Airman In Letterman

Airman Dean F. Scalley, 24, of Hamilton Air Force Base, who suffered severe head injuries last Sunday in a San Rafael automobile accident which took the lives of his two companions, was transferred to Letterman Army Hospital today.

He has been on the critical list at San Rafael General Hospital since the crash and is still considered critical, although there has been some improvement, his physician reported.

"It is remarkable he is still alive," the doctor remarked. "As far as I'm concerned it can be attributed to the new refrigeration treatment and the good nursing care."

Killed in the accident were Airmen Cecil O. Rentfrow of Santa Paula and Michael John Scribner of El Cajon, both 21.

Firemen Would Let Commissioner Serve

The Tiburon Volunteer Firemen's Assn. is of the opinion that a man should be permitted to serve simultaneously as a commissioner and a volunteer fireman, according to Ray F. Coombes, association president.

The policy has not been determined by the Tiburon Fire Protection District Commission.

The association opinion, which will be sent in a letter to the commission, was determined at a meeting Wednesday night in a review of the case of volunteer Fred C. Hannahs, who was recently elected a commissioner.

Shark's Attack Was First In Bay Area

Never, until yesterday, had a shark attacked a person in the San Francisco Bay Area, as far as records show.

Albert Kogler of San Francisco, son of Corte Madera Town Councilman Albert E. Kogler, was killed by a shark while swimming at Baker's Beach off the Presidio yesterday.

Man-eating sharks have been sighted off the coast from time to time, but there is no previous record of an attack in Bay Area waters.

The records show two other persons killed by sharks off the central California coast—in Monterey County and San Luis Obispo County.

Barry Wilson, 17, was killed off Lovers Point Rock, Pacific Grove, in 1952. Peter M. Savino, 25, was killed in Morro Bay, San Luis Obispo County, in April, 1957.

Adult Authority Member Named

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown served notice today that he would nominate John G. (Jack) Bell, Temple City union leader, to the state Adult Authority for a four-year term.

The job pays $16,500 a year and requires state Senate confirmation.

Bell, 47, secretary-treasurer of the California State Assn. of Electrical Workers and the Joint Executive Conference of Southern California Electrical Workers, will succeed James D. Tante, San Francisco, whose term expired March 15.

Hazardous Duty

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — After a lesson from her father, Dorothy Porter, 10, was enthusiastic about ice skating and eager for more instruction — as soon as she could find another teacher. Her father, Fred Porter, 60, broke both legs when he hit a patch of soft ice during their first outing.

Pact To Buy School Site Approved

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night approved a contract to purchase the 10-acre Connell property off South Novato boulevard for $6,000 per acre.

The board reported agreement on the price had been reached with owners of the property.

The agreement will be sent to the owners for their signatures before being forwarded to the state Department of Finance for approval.

Supt. William J. J. Smith said today a survey will be made of new home construction of a full-sized elementary school on the site this year. "It is my hope that we can," he added.

Is This Responsible Leadership?

Recently a meeting was held to discuss school topics and educational problems. Our candidate for your County Board of Education, Dennis Carey, was not invited to attend the forum. The reported reason Dennis was ignored:

Well, well, well, — no wonder our present County Board of Education does not appear to be making progress. Since when is politics a part of education?

Sixto Rallies To Win His Toughest Bout

The 22-year-old scrapper, loser in only one of 22 professional bouts, had his hands full last night at Oakland, but rallied in the last two rounds to eke out a close, but unanimous decision over rugged Junius Washington.

Sixto, who was floored for a nine-count in the eighth round, got up to finish strong and win the nod from all three officials. Referee Elmer Costa scored it 96-95; Judge Jack Silva had it 96-92 and Judge John Lotsey 94-93.

What's next for the San Anselmo kid? Manager Karl Ashley said he has two tentative bouts lined up, but "Sixto needs a rest after this one and he won't fight again until late in June. He got a cut cheek and a mouse on his eye last night."

TITLE REMATCH

Ashley said his fighter has a tentative offer to meet Roque Maravilla, loser to Sonny Ray in a recent TV fight, and a pending return bout with State Champion Monroe Ratliffe of San Diego. Ratliffe won the title by handing Rodriguez his only loss in a 12-rounder last year.

Last night's fight was described as one of the most furious and exciting slugfests the Bay Area has seen in many years. Each round was a full three minutes of heated action and fans cheered wildly at the end of each round.

Rodriguez started fast and decked Washington, 174, for a two count. Washington took a terrific pounding for the remainder of the session, but Sixto couldn't put the Oakland veteran away.

From there it was a close battle until Washington unloaded a sneak right that caught Rodriguez flush on the button in the eighth round. Sixto later admitted, "I was plenty shaken, but I made up my mind to get up and fight back as hard as I could.

That he did, finishing the eighth round with a strong rally, then winning the ninth and 10th to gain the verdict.

"That," summed up Ashley, "was Sixto's toughest fight. We saw he still has a lot to learn and we won't go picking such tough opponents for a while yet. We'll bring him along cautiously. What he may lack in skill he more than makes up for in courage and determination."

Preliminary results:

Bobby Sanders, 146, San Francisco, dec. Milton Jones, 149, Stockton (6).

Johnny Houston, 160½, San Francisco, dec. Cleo Frazier, 163, Stockton (6).

WONDER WHERE THE POWER WENT?

Rigney To Shakeup Giants; Antonelli Starts Tonight

Gloom was king in the Giant clubhouse as they prepared for tonights game with the Los Angeles Dodgers, and there was a good reason—the team is losing its "sock in trade."

"Guess we'll have to have some more batting practice and shake that hitting order around," Manager Bill Rigney groaned yesterday after a 2-1 nipping by the Dodgers. "I'm thinking about going back to the platoon system, also. I'll get as many left-handed hitters in the order as possible when a right-hander is working and go with the right-handers when we face a southpaw."

SOUTHPAW DUEL

Which means that a solid facade of right-handed swingers was on tap for tonight's contest when the Dodgers' Danny McDevitt (1-0) faces Johnny Antonelli (3-2) in a clash of southpaws.

Rigney also planned to have Jackie Brandt and Willie Kirkland check in this morning for some extra batting practice.

The mystery man of the hour was Willie Mays, who lashed vainly at a pitch that was high and outside during the eighth inning yesterday while Stan Williams was about to give him an intentional pass. Mays fouled out to catcher John Roseboro for his efforts.

There were men on second and third and the count was three and nothing when Mays took his abortive swing. Then Kirkland grounded out and the Giants' biggest threat of the day was dead.

Rigney said he talked to Willie afterward, but what he told his $80,000 star is unknown. However, the high-strung skipper had this to say to the press:

"Willie wants to win so bad he can taste it. Sure he went for an awful pitch—up round the top of his hat some place. But he only was trying to help us win."

And it was Mays who collected three of the six hits San Francisco got off Stan Williams. Willie tripled, doubled and singled before fouling out.

Mays also scored the Giants' run in the fourth after ripping a three-bagger into the right field corner. Kirkland followed him by striking out, Orlando Cepeda walked then Daryl Spencer hit a looper into shallow center which second baseman Charley Neal caught. Mays broke for the plate and was safely home as Neal's toss sailed a little high.

FIRST VICTORY

Don Demeter opened the frame by walking, then Larker smashed the ball high and far down the right field line for his second homer of the year. Williams made the two runs stand up while going the distance to win his first of the year against no defeats.

Jack Sanford, shooting for his fifth straight win, was battered for 11 hits and gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth while taking his second loss.

MILL VALLEY'S NEW BASEBALL PLANT

Pictured is Boyle Park, site of Mill Valley's new Little League baseball plant that opened last Saturday. The area features three turfed diamonds, one for the pee-wee boys 8 years old and the others for the older boys. More than 325 boys participate in the Mill Valley junior program. The new diamonds were built by a volunteer group under the auspices of a Citizens Committee headed by President Robert Nelson. Facilities include backstops, bleachers and public address systems. Nicol Leads State Open; Fleck 2nd

SANTA MARIA (UPI)—Young Ron Nicol, little-known Los Angeles professional, had a one-stroke lead into the second round of the California Open Golf Tournament today.

The 23-year-old Nicol shot near flawless golf yesterday for a six-under-par 66 in the opening round. He birdied the first three holes on the Santa Maria County Club course and never fell below par in the 18-holes.

But Jack Fleck, U.S. Open Champion in 1955 whose game has improved of late, and Charles Sifford, Los Angeles Negro player, were only one stroke behind Nicol with 67s.

Ralph Lomelli, Visalia, Jim Griffitts, Los Angeles, and Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, followed another stroke off the pace. Seven players—three of them amateurs—were back of them with 69s.

Pre-tourney favorites Jerry Barber and Eric Monti, both of Los Angeles, still were within shooting range of the leader today. Barber had a 72 yesterday and Monti took a 69 into today's round.

6 World Records May Fall At Fresno

FRESNO (AP)—The West Coast Relays come off for the 33rd time tomorrow featuring a wealth of California stars plus a smattering of top international competitors.

Relay officials, always optimistic, insist half a dozen world records will be in jeopardy along with a few American marks and meet standards in "practically every event."

Among the 1,646 entrants will be Dallas Long and Bill Neider in the shot put; sprinters Ray Norton and Bobby Morrow; high jumper Charley Dumas, Dutch broad jumper Hank Visser and Adhemar Dasilva, the lanky hop, step and jumper from Brazil.

Long already has equalled Parry O'Brien's listed world record of 63-2 once and bettered it unofficially four times only to have technicalities rob him of record recognition.

Nieder, stationed at the San Francisco Presidio, has an exhibition put of 63-8½ and was only inches behind Long when the Southern California freshman tied the record in the Santa Barbara Relays.

Morrow, from Abilene Christian, and Norton, a San Jose State junior, are co-holders of the 100-yard dash world mark of 9.3 seconds. Pushing them will be Morrow's teammate, Bobby Poynter, and Orlando Hazley of Oklahoma State.

In the high jump, Dumas, another USC student, faces tough competition from Sweden's Bertil Holmgren who defeated him here last year. Another top competitor is Asian Games champion Nagalingham Ethirveerasingham, an Indian currently attending UCLA.

San Jose's 1-2 punch of Norton and Poynter pose the chief threat in the 440 and 880-yard relays. The Spartans' time of 40.4 in the shorter race is the nation's best this spring.

Look for close contests in the two-mile and distance medley relays. Five teams — Southern Cal, UCLA, Stanford, California and Occidental—are rated less than five seconds apart in the two-mile. In the distance medley, 440, 880, 1320 and mile, USC and Stanford tangle with the Santa Clara Youth Village, anchored by Lazlo Tabori, a Hungarian refugee who has bettered the four-minute mile.

Women's Golf Tourney At The Meadow Club

Class A—Mrs. E. C. Peterson, 88-16—72; Mrs. J. E. Cann, 83-9—74; Mrs. William Rainey, 91-13—78.

Class B—Mrs. H. M. Leppo, 95-18—77; Mrs. Robert Quinlan, 96-19—77; Mrs. H. C. Billings, 97-17—80; Mrs. Gordon Wood, 99-18—81.

Class C—Mrs. Paul Charron, 104-23—81; Mrs. D. B. Johnson, 110-28—82; Mrs. George Frazer, 105-22—83.

M.V. REALTORS TRIUMPH

The Realtors clobbered the Merchants, 13-2 last night in the Mill Valley National Little League.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Ruth, Foxx, Ott, Etc.—Now Musial Joins Select Group

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Mel Ott, Lou Gehrig, Ted Williams —and now Stan Musial.

Stan the Man, one of baseball's all-time great hitters, hammered his way into that select circle of sluggers last night with his 400th home run —a 400-foot shot leading off the ninth inning at St. Louis that brought the Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

2-GAME 'STREAK'

Musial, at 37, has only two homers in this, his 18th season, but they've come on consecutive nights. And more than coincidentally, perhaps, they've triggered the Cards' first two-game winning "streak" of the year in the National League.

The milestone missile into the right-center field pavilion at Busch Stadium coupled Musial with Williams as the only 400 home-run sluggers now in business. Ruth, of course, is the all-time leader with 714. Foxx, the only right-handed belter in the lot, finished with 534. Ott, the only other National Leaguer in the group, hit 511. Gehrig had 493. And Williams, still sidelined by injury this season, has hit 482 for the Boston Red Sox.

Musial's homer climaxed a tremendous day for first basemen in the N.L. Norm Larker hit a two-run homer that gave Los Angeles a 2-1 victory over San Francisco, and Ted Kluszewski powered his first home run of the year leading off the 10th inning for a 5-4 Pittsburgh victory over Philadelphia. Those were the only games scheduled in the N.L.

In the American League, Baltimore breezed for a 10-1 victory at Washington and Detroit beat Boston 3-1 in the only games scheduled.

The homer was Musial's lone hit of the game. It came off reliever Don Elston (0-1). The Cards' other three runs also came on a homer, with pinch-hitter George Crowe delivering.

That tied it 3-all, after three solo homers off Card starter Lindy McDaniel by the Cubs' Jim Marshall, who hit a pair, and Ernie Banks. Howee Nunn (2-1) was the winner in relief for the last place Cards.

KLU'S 256TH HR

Kluszewski, who had driven in a run with a single as the Pirates came from behind with four in the fourth, got the job done with his 256th career homer. Jim Owens (1-2) went all the way for the Phillies.

Roy Face (4-0) was the winner with one inning of relief.

Three Games Open Twin Cities Little League

A triple-header tomorrow will mark the opening of the Twin Cities Little League baseball season at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Games between the Larkspur Lions and North Bay Lumber, Koch Luggage and Larkspur Lumber, and Littleman Market and Bowman Electric will start respectively at 10 a.m., 12:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

93,103 In Tribute To Roy Campanella

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Baseball's greatest crowd, in spirit and size, added today to the living legend of Roy Campanelli.

A record crowd of 93,103 jammed Memorial Coliseum last night to see the hometown Dodgers play the World Champion Yankees in an exhibition game—and to honor a player most of his fans never saw in action.

The outcome of the game—won by the Yankees, 6-2, was of secondary importance for the Los Angeles fans, who waited more than a year to pay their respects to the partially-paralyzed Campanella on his big benefit night.

The crowd was almost 7,000 greater than the previous baseball record—86,288 set at the fifth game of the 1948 Indian-Braves World Series in Cleveland.

The former Dodger catcher, three times honored as the National League's "Most Valuable Player," sat silently as baseball officials — among them loop President Warren Giles — and civic leaders praised his courage and faith.

Then, as the crowd became quiet, Campanella spoke briefly, slowly, carefully.

"I want to thank each and every one of you good people for this ceremony," he said. "This is something I will never forget for the rest of my life and I want to thank the Yankees and Mr. Del Webb for their part in it, and the Dodgers and Mr. O'Malley for making it possible.

"I thank God I'm here living to be able to see it."

Later, in a strikingly simple ceremony, the lights were turned off and the public address announcer called on the spectators to light matches to "make believe" they were lighting candles for a cake for Roy. The tens-of-thousands of candles lit the huge stadium almost as brightly as if the field lights had been turned on.

MOB LEFT OUT

In addition to the record crowd inside the Coliseum, another 15,000 persons seeking the last 10,000 bleacher seats put on sale last night lost out in an attempt to see the game.

Police helped avert what might have been a sour note to the evening's events by controlling the shoving, good-natured but disappointed fans—thanks to reinforcements that included all available motorcycle units.

Campanella's wife, Ruthe, and three of their children, Roy Jr., 10, Tony, 8, and Princess, 5, watched the ceremony and game from a box. Campanella, saddled with heavy medical expenses, gets a big share of the proceeds of the game. Another meeting of the Yankees and Dodgers for the same purpose will be held next year in New York.

CAMPANELLA INTRODUCED — Roy Campanella, former Dodger catcher paralyzed in an auto crash, is flanked by Los Angeles Dodgers manager Walter Alston (left) and New York Yankees manager Casey Stengel as he was introduced to the crowd before the start of an exhibition game honoring him at the Los Angeles Coliseum last night. ORTEGA CHOICE OVER STITCH IN TV BOUT

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Gaspar Ortega is favored to beat Rudy Stitch tonight, but the odds don't mean much to hold in the revenge-minded Stitch who thought he won their first bout.

Ortega took a split decision by a single point after a bloody battle in New York Feb. 6, but suffered an eye cut that has kept him on the sidelines since.

Tonight's 10-round bout between the scrappy welterweights will be telecast and broadcast nationally (NBC, 7 p.m. PDT).

McElhenny Signs With 49ers For Eighth Season

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Hugh McElhenny, one of professional football's great running backs, came to terms today with the San Francisco 49ers for his eighth season.

"I've never felt in finer condition," said the former Washington star whose career twice has been hampered by injuries to his shoulder and foot.

McElhenny, now 30, has gained 3,874 yards on 764 rushes for an average of 5.1 gained per carry during his seven years at San Francisco.

Oklahoma City Open Links Plenty Tough For Pros

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A lush green golf course that on the surface appeared to be a pushover had most of the top ranking golfers talking to themselves today as the $25,000 Oklahoma City Open tournament plunged into the all-important second round.

On top of the heap was young Tommy Jacobs of Whittier, Calif., who got the maximum mileage out of his game for an opening 66 which is six-under-par on the 6,640-yard par 72 Twin Hills Country Club course.

Strictly a test of accuracy, Twin Hills turned back the mass assault on par which usually develops on the Professional Golfers Assn. tour. Of the 148 players who teed off in the first round only 23 broke par.

Jacobs played consistent golf but was fortunate to pick up a pair of eagles on par 5 holes. He hit the 471-yard 8th hole with a 4 iron on his second shot and rolled in a 22-footer.

He chipped in from 25 yards out for his eagle on the 537-yard 16th hole.

Pete Mazur of Buffalo, N. Y. was Jacobs' chief competitor after carding a 67 on the strength of 6 birdies.

Pete Cooper, the Lakeland, Fla. veteran, with the silk-smooth swing, escaped most of the hazards and came through with a 68 to stay in the thick of the fight.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Giants Miserable In Pinch-Hitting

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

Up to now the Giant bench has been impotent—one safety in 24 pinch-hit situations and that a single by Leon Wagner.

The lone single, incidentally, was in the eighth inning of that game in Seals Stadium three weeks ago when the Chicago Cubs larruped the Giants, 11-3. In other words, it was in a lost cause.

When Ray Jablonski and Bill White were traded to St. Louis for Sam Jones, the Giant bench was dealt a severe blow. The added strength Jones has given the front line pitching made the deal sound despite the fact half of the bench was sent to the Cardinals.

The bench now is composed of Hank Sauer, Bob Speake, Wagner and Willie Kirkland or Jackie Brandt depending upon whether Kirkland or Brandt is the left field starter.

In five times at bat, Sauer has struck out four times. Speake has fanned twice in the same number of AB's and in two other appearances drew a walk and laid down a sacrifice bunt. Wagner, a pinch-hitter on occasions, got the above mentioned single, struck out three times, walked once and was ineffective in his other attempts.

KIRKLAND'S contribution has been one walk in three calls from the bench, but as a left field starter his first three hits all were home runs and what proved to be a game winning single at Cincinnati Monday night.

In this game, Brandt made his only appearance as a pinch-hitter and grounded into a force out at home plate with the bags loaded in the ninth and none out. Sauer followed Brandt as a pinch hitter and struck out. Then came Jimmy Davenport's base-cleaning double and Kirkland's single scoring Brandt for a final 6-5 win over the Redlegs who scored two runs in the bottom of the ninth.

So it has been the regular lineup that has produced every Giant run thus far.

An old pro like Sauer is long overdue for a big smash. His timing has been off but big No. 6 is not allowing it to worry him to the point of losing sleep although he is far from pleased with himself.

"That obviously wouldn't do any good," said Sauer. "I'll work it out, you can be sure."

THAT OLD bromide of cool, calm and collected certainly applies to pinch-hitting which Ron Northey discussed at some length during the Giants recent swing through the east.

Northey was a deluxe pinch-hitter in the major leagues. He now is batting instructor and coach of the Chicago White Sox.

"Pinch-hitting is baseball's roughest job," said Northey who hit his last pinch-hit home run in 1957. "Most of the time the tying or winning run is on base and the pressure is terrific.

"You only have that one time at bat. And you know that you're likely to get just one swing. Added to that is the fact you're cold because you've been sitting on the bench all the time.

"Regardless of the situation, I always waited for one pitch—in my strength zone."

Northey twice led the National League as a pinch-hitter for the Cardinals, once the American League as a White Sox bench man.

He shares the major league record with three others for the most pinch-hit homers, nine, but three of Northey's were grand slammers—a distinction he holds all by himself.

ATOP Cincinnati's tallest skyscraper are chimes with a pure, sweet tone. When the Giants arrived there, the chimes were put to work by an expert who played "Take Me Out to the Ball Game." They love baseball in Cincinnati.

AFTER FINAL VISIT — Mrs. Rosalie Marwood leaves London's Pentonville Prison after seeing her husband, Ronald, for the last time Tuesday. Marwood was hanged today for the murder of a policeman, while a crowd of hundreds protested outside the prison. (AP Wirephoto)

CLEMENCY DENIED

Britain Hangs Policeman's Killer As Crowd Protests

LONDON (AP)—Donald Marwood, a 25-year-old killer of a policeman, was hanged today in Pentonville Prison while hundreds of Britons milled about the gates protesting the execution.

The crowd outside stood an all-night vigil, and inside the jail prisoners rioted for half an hour demanding that the hanging be called off.

The execution took place only 200 yards from the home of the man convicted of murdering a policeman—one of the few crimes that can get the death penalty under Britain's modified capital punishment law.

In the crowd of about 1,000 outside the prison were some carrying placards reading "Save Marwood," "Revenge is contrary to justice" and "Is Marwood really guilty?"

The condemned man's pretty 20-year-old wife, Rosalie, waited in an apartment only 200 yards from the prison and read over and again the last letter from her husband.

She had collected almost alone more than 10 000 signatures to a petition seeking clemency. Another plea came from 150 members of Parliament—including 25 per cent of the members of the House of Commons—who opposed the death penalty for Marwood.

Police Trap Nabs Looters Of Apartment

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Tipped-off police hid out of the way last night while burglars robbed almost a million dollars in gems and furs from the hotel apartment of banker-socialite Mrs. Mary G. Roebling.

Then, the burglary complete, detectives arrested two of the gang as they stepped out of the hotel elevator laden with the loot. A third was arrested outside in a getaway car.

TAILING BURGLARS

New York police had been tailing the burglars since Feb. 2 and had followed them here by car yesterday afternoon.

Detectives waited patiently while the burglars went about their business in Mrs. Roebling's lavish apartment in the Hotel Hildebrecht.

Arrested were Morris Hess, 35, and David Lerner, 47, both Brooklyn, and Alexander Spica, 47, of Manhattan. They were held on charges of breaking, entry and larceny.

NEARLY $1 MILLION

Among the loot they carried in a cardboard box was a mink coal valued at $10,000; an emerald necklace ($140,000), a ruby necklace ($100,000), and many other gems. Police said the total was nearly a million dollars.

"I really don't know what the total value would be," said Mrs. Roebling, 52, often listed among the nation's best dressed women. "I will have to check with my insurance man."

Her swank apartment was in the public eye only a few weeks ago when Edward R. Murrow brought his "Person to Person" television show there to interview the wealthy widow.

Hospitals Invite Public Next Week

The welcome mat will be out afternoons and evenings next week at the three general hospitals in Marin County in observance of "Hospital Week."

Dr. John C. Siemens, president of the Marin Hospital Council, said visitors will be welcome from 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. at Ross General, San Rafael General and Marin General Hospitals.

"They will be shown through the buildings to become acquainted with locally available facilities," Dr. Siemens said.

Some Sudanese women wear cartridge shells stuck in their lower lips.

Sir Samuel Hoare, British Prewar Politician, Dies

LONDON (AP) — Sir Samuel Hoare, a prewar British foreign secretary, died last night after a brief illness. He was 79.

Hoare had a brilliant political career spanning more than three decades, but he was as much remembered for one of his setbacks—the secret Hoare-Laval pact of 1935—as for anything else.

With Pierre Laval, then French foreign minister, he agreed on a plan to settle the Ethiopian war by giving Italian Premier Benito Mussolini territorial grants and economic advantages in most of Ethiopia.

The terms leaked out, and Prime Miniser Stanley Baldwin's government was accused on all sides of abandoning the League of Nations, which was trying to stop the war by sanctions against Italy. Hoare resigned the foreign secretary's post, which he had held less than a year.

On the positive side, he was a developer of British aviation, parliamentary pilot of the intricate bill which gave India limited home rule in the 1930s, and holder of a wide variety of cabinet posts.

Board Leaves County Welfare Budget Intact

A county welfare department budget of $2,334,881 proposed for 1959-60, to which the county would contribute $48,540 more than this fiscal year, was left intact, but with reservations, by the board of supervisors yesterday.

One reservation had to do with creation of a "homemaker service" that would cost the county about $3,000 next year.

Because of federal and state support of some county welfare department programs, the county pays only 22 per cent of the welfare department's two-million-dollar plus budget.

Aid to needy children cases have continued to increase, said Betty L. Presley, county welfare director. She listed more young marriages breaking up and lingering effects of the 1958 recession as the reasons.

The welfare department's "general relief" program, which next year will include money for maternity cases of five unwed mothers, is the only one to show a decrease in expected expenditures next year. It is financed entirely by the county.

The number of persons on general relief next year is expected to drop to 3,788 persons each month compared to 4,208 persons each month this year. It reflects "the employment situation in the construction trades," County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said.

Approximately $40,000 of the county's increased share of $48,000 would go into the aid to needy children program. Since the eligibility is controlled by state law, the county has no control over the number of cases.

During 1958-59 in Marin County, 18 out of every 1,000 children under 18 will be receiving aid. This compares with an average of 38 out of 1,000 children in the state as a whole.

NEW ASSIGNMENT — Lt. Gen. Emmett O'Donnell has been assigned as commander in chief of the Pacific air forces, it was announced by the White House in Washington. O'Donnell now is Air Force deputy chief of staff for personnel. (AP Wirephoto)

To Plan For Picnic

Tanker Blast Fires Dairy

SONOMA (UPI)—A large butane tanker overturned and exploded on Highway 12 five miles south of here today, setting fire to a pasture and buildings of the Stornetta Dairy.

There were no casualties, but the California Highway Patrol said several automobiles belonging to workers were destroyed by the blaze.

One of the structures burned was a large bunkhouse for employees of the dairy.

The CHP said the fire was under control and had been confined to the immediate area of the overturned semi-truck and trailer. A spokesman said traffic was being diverted over the old Napa road until the danger had been eliminated.

Accident A Life-Saver

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police said today a traffic accident may have saved the life of a 44-year-old man.

Samuel Feldman appeared to be intoxicated late Wednesday night when he was involved in a minor collision, so police gave him a sobriety test. He passed it and a doctor was called.

The doctor said tests showed Feldman was suffering from a diabetic attack which might have proved fatal if he had not received treatment in time.

Feldman said he had no idea he had diabetes.

Candidate Seeks Posts On 2 Boards

One candidate for Tamalpais High School District trustee was left out by error from the story published in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

He is Harry Leff Jr. of 84 Summit drive, Corte Madera.

Leff is a "double-entry" candidate, running both for the Tam high district board and the Marin Junior College District board. Material on him, and his picture, is included in the story on junior college board candidates on page 9 of today's I-J.

Leff said his children are not yet of either high school or junior college age, and he feels he could contribute to both boards, looking to the future. He said he believes he has the necessary time to devote to both boards.

ON SUNDAY

Mother Is Queen For A Day

Mother was trying to hurry her family through dinner. Tonight was P-TA meeting and she was anxious to get over to school a little early to be sure to see Ted's teacher before the meeting began.

Dad was going to baby-sit and see that all four children got to bed at a reasonable time.

"Don't rush us, Liz," said Dad. "Sit down and drink your coffee, the kids and I will do the dishes, won't we kids?"

Mother did not relax. She hated to leave all the cleaning up for Dad, but then Ted had been late for dinner and she did want to have time for those seconds she knew he wanted.

After Mother left, Dad and all four children stayed around the table.

"You know," said Dad "Sunday is Mother's Day. Don't you think it would be nice to do something real special for our Mother?"

"I've already made her a present," said Barbara, the 12-year-old. "I wove her a pot holder."

"Wonderful!" said Dad, "but what would you all think of telling Mother she is to be Queen for a day and that we will all wait on her and not let her do one lick of work all day?'

"Gee, she'd like that," said Ted. "Let's do it."

The children were in a wonderful frame of mind and the house was peaceful, serene and clean when mother returned from the P-TA.

The next few days saw much whispering and planning. Sunday morning came. Barbara set her alarm, got up and made coffee. Ted heard and came down into the kitchen.

"Let's take some to Dad, too," he said.

They took the tray upstairs.

"Good morning, your Majesty," said Barbara at the door.

"Your slightest wish is to be granted. "You have today Lady Kathy, Lady Betsy, Lord Ted and my humble self at your command."

"You're to be Queen all day long and you must call me Milady," she said.

Kathy laid out her mother's slippers and bathrobe. "Im the lady of the wardrobe," she announced.

"You sweet, sweet children," said Mother. She leaned over and squeezed her husband's hand and her eyes were moist.

COLORFUL PARTY

'Hawaiian Holiday' At San Rafael Club

The San Rafael Improvement Clubhouse was transformed into an exotic tropical garden for the club's "Hawaiian Holiday" on Tuesday. Tall and lush were the ferns banked about a palm trunk on the stage. The brilliant red of anthuriums was in contrast to the golden brown of the pineapples and the yellow of papayas which formed the centerpieces of the luncheon tables. Brilliantly colored travel posters were on the walls. The party overflowed the clubhouse with many tables set up on the lawn. Members of the club's executive board, headed by Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp, vice president, who were hostesses, wore gay muu-muus.

During the salad luncheon, Miss Ruth Rogers of the Matson Company, modeled beautiful garments by Honolulu designers. The clothes were varied, ranging from houseboy outfits to formals. One particularly striking costume was linen with a white satin sheath and long emerald green coat.

Honor guests of the club, seated at the table of Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen, president, were Mesdames Frank A. Schroeder of Corte Madera, vice president-at-large of California Federation of Women's Clubs; Park Q. Wray of San Mateo, president of Golden Gate District, CFWC, William McPhun of San Francisco, treasurer of the History and Landmarks Council, Charles Neils, president of the Presidents Assembly and Marin club presidents: Mesdames Sebastian Cimino, Tamalpais Centre Women's Club; Donald Denton, Larkspur Women's Club; Frank Duhme Jr., Outdoor Art Club (Mill Valley); Van Allen Treat, Sausalito Women's Club.

At a brief business session, the slate of officers for the terms 1959-1960 was presented by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Louis L. Robinson. The new slate is composed of Mesdames Clapp, president; Carl Riznik, first vice president; Sydney Frank, second vice president; Earl W. Burns, corresponding secretary; Thomas Shine, treasurer, and William Held, financial secretary; Cowen, Garry Gast, Cletus Fitzharris, Leiton Elder, Herbert Christ, Harold Geister, Carroll Thomas, Douglas Godfrey, board members. Honorary presidents are Mesdames A. W. DuBois, Herbert K. Walton and G. B. Waterman.

Marin Volunteers Mail Invitations To Fashion Show

Invitations are in the mail for one of the most unusual fashion shows of the season which the Marin Volunteers, auxiliary to the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, will present at the Meadow Club on Wednesday, May 20.

Entitled "A Magic Voyage" the show will conduct guests through the world of international fashions featuring clothes designed abroad for the American woman. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. and proceeds from the event will benefit the Senior Citizens Center in San Rafael.

Clothes to be modeled will come from several specialty shops both in Marin County and San Francisco including Chinese from Norma of Dalen, Japanese from the Japan Trade Center, Mexican from La Pinata in Sausalito's Village Fair, Hawaiian from Tiki also in the Village Fair, Indian from Profils Dumonde, Greek from Mountanos Gift Shop. Other countries to be represented are Israel, Italy and France from which Christian Dior originals will be modeled.

Also shown will be clothes from American designers which are suitable for traveling including custom knits by Corienne of California, casual clothes from The Laurelei and cocktail dresses and suits from Maryon Taylor of Ross.

Shoes will be from "The Sandal" in Sausalito, and hats from Irina Roublon Salon de Couture in San Francisco. House of Kwan Yin will do the hair styling and Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio the make-up.

The grand finale will feature an historical parade of 11 bathing suits by Cole of California. Complete research has been done by the company on bathing suits from earliest times and the suits will be made in authentic fabric and design from sometime Before Christ to Cole's version of a bathing suit of 2059 A.D.

Reservations may be made by calling either Mrs. Arthur Roth in Mill Valley or Mrs. H. F. Green in Tiburon.

General chairman of the event, Miss Caroline Rose who is also president of the Marin Volunteers, is being assisted by committee chairmen Mesdames York Westgate, decorations; C. FOCUS LUNCHEON

Show Will Feature Vacation Fashions

"Endowed for Summer" is the theme taken from the new project of the "Rainbow" ladies of Ross Hospital Volunteer Service and of Alpha Omicron Pi Alumnae, who will be featured in the Tuesday Fashion Focus Luncheon to be held at Rickey's on May 12.

Both groups are raising funds toward an endowed bed which will be available to patients of Marin County physicians. The initial deposit consisting of proceeds from a series of bridge parties will be presented by Mrs. W. C. Anderson, president of the Alpha O Alumnae, to Mrs. Paul C. Spengler, president of the Ross Hospital Volunteer Service. Special guests at the Fashion Focus Luncheon will be the wives of the board of directors for the Endowed Bed Fund, the Mesdames John S. Siemens, Carroll A. Russell, William B. Smith, and Jack Craemer.

As for fashions to be featured, it is the policy of Dixson's of Belvedere to show distinctive casual clothes for Marin living. There will be special dividends in sports separates insured against losing their crispness and glowing colors in the summer sun.

Modeling the cottons, linens, denims and ducks will be Mesdames Robert Coolidge, George Herrero, William G. Morrisey III, and Clyde J. Curley of Alpha Omicron Pi. The Ross Hospital Volunteer Service will be represented by Mesdames M. F. Barkow, Robert Rodden, Norris Seastrom and David Sederquist.

The Walter Coiffure Studio of San Rafael will endow each model with a new summer look with casual, easy to handle hair styles.

The Tuesday Fashion Focus Luncheons are open to the public, with luncheon at 12:30 o'clock and the Fashion Show at 1 o'clock. For reservations call Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

Teenagers Dance Set Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening the Mill Valley Teen-agers Assn. will have its next dance at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse from 8 to 11 p.m.

Dr. P. R. Danford, chairman of the association's adult committee, states that the Association wishes to make clear that it is composed of any teen-agers in the Mill Valley School District, and that attendance at any MVTA function is possible only if the member has a card.

Each member may bring one guest but must sign for that guest and be responsible for his or her conduct.

The MVTA has listed the following rules for guidance of members and their guests.

(1) Dress should be the same as for any social function — no jeans for boys, no capris or other extremes for girls;

(2) No drinking — before or during the dance;

(3) No gambling — the game room is for recreation only;

(4) Anyone leaving the building may not return;

(5) Rowdyism will not be tolerated on the part of either members or guests.

Members are reminded to bring their membership cards tomorrow night.

When Best Friend's Little Boy Breaks A Very Expensive Vase

"My best friend has a little boy of 2," a maiden lady writes. "The boy gets into everything. They visit me frequently. The boy is not mean. He just is curious, and energetic. Yesterday he broke an expensive vase. I don't want him to tear my house to pieces, yet I feel I cannot punish him. That's his mother's job isn't it? She is too lenient with misbehavior. Many other people have this same problem when little boys come visiting. What can we do?"

I sympathize with you. When a busy 2-year-old breaks a vase, you want to scream. Yet you must be cordial and friendly. You shouldn't punish him. As you say, that's up to his mother. It isn't easy to be a good hostess. Here are some suggestions.

Can you get a wooden chest and put appropriate toys in it? Indestructible toys, of course. Set it in a corner of your living room. It will form a play center for your small visitor. The boy will love it. It'll keep him busy.

You shouldn't punish, but you can say "no." Or "don't do that." You can stop him when disaster impends. Be sure to ask his mother about his behavior. Try not to offend her. But suggest that she check with mothers of other little boys. She could find out whether or not she is too lenient. On the other hand, it may be that you're expecting too much. In that case she can tell you. Try not to be upset if she does.

When you know the boy is coming, take a trip through your home. Remove your breakables. Put them in a place he can't reach. Finally, try to be patient. Husky, curious little boys always are a trial. But they're wonderful, just the same. Think of what his mother faces every minute of the day. She survives. You can too.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My daughter complains that she has the smallest allowance of any child in her room. We could afford more. Should we be more generous?"
J. F.

(A) Probably you should. It would be better to give her an allowance which is about average for the girls in her room.

Convict Camp Program Approved

SACRAMENTO (AP) —A one and one-half-million-dollar a year program for putting state prisoners to work in the forests was approved today by the Senate Finance Committee.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown proposed the budget augmentation as a means of relieving crowded prisons and putting the idle convicts to work on soil conservation, fire and flood control and fish and game projects.

The money would finance two new 80-man camps and three 40-man mobile trailer camps as well as expand existing camps.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. each day the code letters are different.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Instruments Handy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen students used their "musical instruments" as fire extinguishers to douse their flaming "ship" here yesterday.

They were riding on a papermache ship, one of several floats on parade during Ohio State University's May Week celebration, when flames broke out in the stern.

The students were singing to music produced by striking water-filled bottles. They poured the water on the fire and abandoned ship.

A Smasher For Britain

LONDON (UPI) — Britain will have the world's largest atom smasher outside the United States and Russia by 1961, it was announced yesterday.

The machine, a proton synchrotron, is being built at a cost of $19,600,000 at the Rutherford High Energy Laboratory of the National Institute for Research in Nuclear Science at Harwell. It will be used cooperatively by British universities and institutions engaged in nuclear research.

Strauss Vote Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prolonged hearings on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be Secretary of Commerce may end soon.

That's the word today from Republicans on the Senate Commerce Committee which has been hearing testimony on the nomination.

Sen. Hugh Scott touched off the latest flare-up yesterday when he said he regarded the hearing as largely "a nit-picking expedition—travels through the territory of trivia." He said Strauss' most serious offense seems to have been that he proved others wrong. Scott referred especially to Strauss' insistence on going ahead with development of the hydrogen bomb despite opposition of many others.

Crown Jewels Missing

NEW YORK (AP)—Archduchess Marie of Austria reported yesterday that one of the few surviving pieces of the Austrian crown jewels is missing.

The Archduchess, 24, described the antique gold, pearl and ruby brooch as priceless. She said she wore it Tuesday night at a ball in the Ambassador hotel. A search of the ballroom failed to produce the brooch — two by four inches, with a large center pearl, three dropped pearls and a circlet of 16 small and four large rubies.

Cardinal Dies

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The government today ordered three days of national mourning for Crisanto Cardinal Luque, dead at 70 of a heart attack.

The cardinal, whose censure was a major factor in the downfall of Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla two years ago, was stricken yesterday while at lunch.

His death reduced to 72 the membership of the College of Cardinals.

Russ Ice-Breaker Ready

LONDON (AP)—Engines of the Soviet atomic-powered icebreaker Lenin have been successfully tested and the vessel is almost ready for launching, Moscow radio said today.

The 16,000-ton icebreaker carries three atomic reactors.

"The engines, using electricity produced by atomic power, will have 44,000 horse power—twice as powerful as those of the biggest American icebreaker," the broadcast said.

He Wed 27 Times

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A Yugoslav marital record holder has died at the age of 65.

Sredoje Goluskin, from northern Serbia, had been married 27 times, Belgrade newspapers reported. They did not say how many of his marriages ended in divorce.

One Rebel At Large

PANAMA (AP)—Panama today pulled back troops rushed to the Caribbean coast during the invasion crisis and reported only one member of a Cuban force which landed two weeks ago still at large.

Five of the six Cubans who refused to surrender with the others in the expedition were captured last night in a swamp near the port of Portobelo.

They were being brought to join the 85 already held in Panama City jail.

Fire Kills Couple

ARTESIA (UPI)—A man and his wife perished early today when a fire swept through their two-bedroom stucco home. Two young neighbors who attempted to rescue the couple suffered minor injuries.

The bodies of Arthur and Edyth Wilson, both 45, were found sprawled in a bedroom of the gutted home.

Two youths, Ramon M. Vasquez, 19, and Billy G. Ortiz, 16, attempted to fight their way into the home but were driven back by the heat of the flames.

Fire Chief Sutherland said the fire apparently started in the kitchen from a mislaid cigarette.

Chiseler Confesses

NEW YORK (UPI) — William Vetter, 74, conscience stricken after reading about welfare chiselers, surrendered voluntarily and confessed to authorities he had nearly $20,000 in cash during the past seven years while he was on relief.

Vetter gave the welfare department $7,000 to cover the $4,186 he had accepted in relief checks plus interest on it.

No Reconciliation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eleanor Powell says rumors that she is considering a reconciliation with Glenn Ford are false.

"My decision to obtain a divorce remains unchanged," she said.

Rumors of a reconciliation cropped up when a temporary alimony hearing scheduled for today was postponed.

Frost Hits Midwest

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Scattered frost today struck sections of the Midwest which only a few days ago were sweltering in a 90-degree heat wave.

Readings plunged into the 30s in the northern Great Lakes and to the 40s in the Ohio valley in the wake of a cold air mass pushing toward the Atlantic coast.

In the Southwest, spawning ground of a violent storm front earlier this week, a tornado struck last night near Fort Stockton, Tex., southwest of Midland. There were no reports of damage.

Radio Veteran Takes Sea Job

Phil Brooks of Belveron Gardens, for more than two years an announcer and host of the "Nitecap Show" on radio station KSFO in San Francisco, will realize a longtime dream next week.

He will go to work as a purser for the Pacific Far East Lines, whose home port is San Francisco.

"I've always loved the sea," Brooks said yesterday, "and when I had the chance to go, I took it."

Brooks, who with his wife, Dorothy, is parent to two boys, Benny, 12, and Phillip, 7, said the job had other attractions. "When I'm home, I'll be home. No more of this passing my kids on their way to school as I get home, and on their way to bed when I get up." Brooks' nighttime show was on the air from midnight to 6 a.m. six days a week.

Brooks is a 19-year veteran of radio, and worked until joining KSFO as chief announcer for KMBC in Hollywood.

He grants that a purser's job is a far cry from radio, but says, "I don't expect to miss it. I'm going to be so interested in this new job," which he described as a "combination bookkeeper, diplomat, doctor and psychiatrist."

Announcer Frank Cope has taken over Brooks' nighttime chore on KSFO.

PRETTY MAID AND WOOLY LAMBS

Nationalist China's acrobatic flying team will perform at Hamilton Air Force Base May 16 as part of the base's Armed Forces Day observance.

The crack "Thunder Tigers" from Formosa will flash above the base in nine-plane formation. The flyers are equipped with Sabrejets and will perform for 20 minutes starting at 11 a.m.

Also scheduled for Armed Forces Day are:

Full dress parade at 10 a.m.

Static and moving displays of aircraft and equipment including ultra-sonic jet interceptors and flyovers of swept-winged bombers ranging from B47 Stratojets to giant KC135 jet tankers.

F104A Starfighters will be in the air featuring scrambles, intercepts and flyovers.

Project officer Capt. John O'Donnell said there also will be four Navy jet fighters and patrol bombers on hand for inspection. These will include the A4D Skyhawk attack plane, the F2H all-weather Demon, the F8U Crusader and the P2V Neptune.

The Air Force will have on the ground F100 Supersabres, the F101 Voodoo, the F102 Delta Dagger and the F104 Starfighter, in addition to the F89 Scorpion and the T33 trainer.

A 50-member drill team from the Coast Guard's 12th District at San Francisco will perform at 11:45 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. At 2 p.m. there will be a demonstration by the Hamilton base fire department.

There will be numerous displays by squadrons depicting their missions including a Teletype facility in operation. Other displays will include the base hospital, the 4th Weather Squadron, the 83rd and 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadrons and the 41st Air Rescue Squadron.

Other static displays will include those by General Electric, McDonnell Aircraft and the Hughes Corp.

The 573rd Air Force Band under the direction of CWO Robert L. Kaler will play concerts throughout the day.

At 1:30 p.m. there will be an intercept demonstration. A two-seater T33 simulating an enemy bomber will be intercepted at 35,000 feet. A T33 and an F104 Starfighter will demonstrate their difference in capabilities and speed.

At 3:15 p.m. a formation of nine C119 Flying Boxcars from the 312th Air Transport Squadron will fly over, then peel off in echelons of three to land.

The day will be concluded at 4 p.m. with a Little League ball game.

2nd Hired Killer Sentenced To Die

VENTURA (UPI)—Luis Moya, 22, convicted of murder for his part in the Nov. 17 slaying of Olga Duncan, today was ordered to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Superior Court Judge Charles Blackstock, in pronouncing sentence on Moya, said he could have reduced the penalty to life in prison but "wouldn't sustitute my judgement for that of the jury" which found the defendant guilty.

Moya will join co-killer Augustine Baldonado, 25, who previously was sentenced to death and now is at San Quentin. Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, under penalty of death for engineering the death of her daughter-in-law, is at the women's facility at Corona.

Aboard pirate junks captured in 1957 in the South China Sea were found a French cannon dated 1798 and a British cannon market 1812, both of which had been recently fired.

Legislative Ethics Code Due New Try

SACRAMENTO (AP)—It's back to the drafting boards for the legislators' code of ethics.

The 70-member Citizens Legislative Advisory Commission Wednesday rejected the first code drafted by one of its committees. It directed the committee to try again next year.

The rejected proposal would have prohibited legislators from accepting gifts in connection with official business. It also would have required a lawmaker to report a private interest in a bill before voting on it.

The parent commission split over whether the proposed code was too strong, or too weak.

The commission did recommend, however, that the Legislature consolidate some of its 48 standing committees and equalize the committee workloads.

Mill Valley's Play Program Set To Go

Mill Valley's summer recreation program, granted its budget request by the city council this week, is set to "go into business," according to Director William J. Castelli.

Again utilizing Park, Old Mill, and Alto Schools, the program will offer the basic attractions of previous years, Castelli said. It will begin June 29 and end Aug. 14.

Tennis will again be offered at the city courts on East Blithedale avenue. The program also will include golf.

Supervised play, arts and crafts, junior theater, photography, music listening, square dancing, dog training and creative writing will complete the offerings.

Castelli said registration will be held at Park School June 23. Mill Valley families will pay a $1 registration fee. Nonresidents will be assessed a $2 fee. Extra fees for tennis and golf are also levied.

Castelli reported that last year there were 410 resident registrations and 44 non-residents. He said that some $700 in fees was collected, half from tennis.

$45 Cash Missing From Jr. Museum

About $45 in cash is missing from Marin Junior Museum at 76 Albert Park road in San Rafael.

Diane Avelin Conners of San Pedro road, supervisor of education and director at the museum, reported the loss to police. She said the theft occurred sometime between last Saturday and Wednesday.

Police found no evidence of forced entry. The money had been in a bag inside an unlocked footlocker.

Evergreen Trees Dying; Cause Stumps Experts

Evergreen trees such as pine and Douglas fir are dying for some unknown reason, especially in the Woodacre and San Geronimo areas, Marin agricultural officials reported today.

Richard Straw, deputy agricultural commissioner, said specialists from University of California and the U.S. Forest Service are studying the condition but have come up with no explanation as yet. A forestry expert is expected to be in Marin again for further investigation within a few weeks.

"We do not think insects or disease are responsible," said Straw. The condition does not appear to be contagious. He said reports from other counties indicate the same condition exists along the entire coast.

The Woodacre hillsides appear to be the worst hit in Marin County. One tree suddenly turns fire-red while others next to it remain unaffected.

One possible explanation might be the heavy floods of last year followed by drought this year, Straw said. He explaned that last year's downpour may have caused fiber roots to shoot out, causing a condition of drowning. Then this year's drought may have caused the fiber roots to shrivel and dry up, creating "shock."

"We are concerned and are continuing investigation," said Straw. "If we get anything, we will announce it immediately."

New Riding Club Forms

A new horsemen's club, still nameless, was formed Wednesday night at a meeting by 20 residents of San Geronimo Valley.

Jesse (Buck) Joyce was elected president. Other officers are Leslie Stone, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, secretary-treasurer; Jeffrey Harriman, junior vice president, and Margaret Prather, junior secretary-treasurer.

The group adopted bylaws which open membership to any Marin County resident. Plans call for participation in local riding events, overnight rides, and classes in horsemanship, according to Mrs. Leslie Stone.

The group will meet regularly at 7:30 p.m. on the first Monday of each month at Lagunitas School, Mrs. Stone said.

A WEEK OF GOOD READING

PROFILE OF THE WEEK—Sausalito attorney John Ehlen has led a "magna cum laude" career starting from the time he was a newsboy. Grateful subscribers presented him with a bicycle and a philosophy which he still follows today. Little known is the fact that he originally trained to be a minister.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.
